Pueblo's Consort Knew Red Perils

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The skipper of a sister ship to the USS Pueblo says he still believes in the concept of lightly armed intelligence craft but he wouldn't again want to take one near Red China or North Korea.

Cmdr. Charles R. Clark, who commanded the Banner, outlined to a Navy court of inquiry Wednesday a story that in some ways paralleled the experience of Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher and the Pueblo—except the Banner was not seized by North Koreans and its crew held captive for 11 months.

He did not disagree when Bucher's attorney prefaced a question by saying: "You more than any other man can say, 'There but for the grace of God go I' when you look at Pete Bucher."

Of No Help

Clark took the stand in open session—the first in four days—after Rear Adm. Frank L. Johnson, who supervised the Pueblo, said he had no forces under his direct command to provide emergency help when North Korean gunboats surrounded her a year ago and that planes and ships from other commands were unavailable or too far away. Johnson said the Pueblo's two .50-caliber machine guns "did not appear to me to provide a significant defense capability."

The court goes into closed session today to hear classified information.

Johnson, commander of the U.S. Naval Forces—Japan at the time, said planes could not operate out of Japan because of an agreement with that country forbidding use of Japan-based aircraft in engagements with unfriendly forces.

Official Command

After Johnson described the forces available to him, Rear Adm. Marshall White of the five-admiral court said: "Then we really had a contingency plan to use forces that didn't exist. There was no help available for her?"

Answer: "No forces were available to me."

Q. "Then there were no forces readily available to come to the assistance of the Pueblo as I understand your on-call arrangement with the 5th Air Force and the 7th Fleet?"

A. "They (the forces) were instructed to go into action any time they received word from any source that assistance was needed. But each command had to go back as far as CINCPAC. Johnson said he was not in favor of arming intelligence vessels because "we had successfully carried out 16 missions in unarmed status... and I did consider they (the guns) might well be provocative."

He agreed with Bucher, regarding communications with headquarters, that the Japanese mountains made it hard to link frequencies.

Overemphasized

He said he did not consider this critical: "There was no instance that at any time this created a critical problem in operations."

The Banner was the first of its type of intelligence ships; the Pueblo the second.

E. Miles Harvey, civilian attorney for Bucher, asked Clark: "Do you have any recommendations or thoughts or anything else that might bear on this investigation by this board?"

"Armament and weapons and how they are used have possibly been overemphasized," Clark said. "In my personal opinion, these ships should not have been armed."

"When you're going down the street in your home town, what size of a pocket knife should you carry against a robber who has guns?"

"I don't think protective forces would do any good. I don't think they could have gotten there in time to be of any appreciable help."

Clark said he felt future intelligence ships should be faster and have compartmented construction so the ship would float in case of a ramming. Clark now is range-safety officer at the Pacific missile range at Point Mugu, Calif.

Harassed By Reds

Clark said he had been harassed by Chinese and Russian vessels.

Clark said he thought he had an excessive amount of classified material on board and that he did not have adequate means to destroy it while within the 100-fathom line.

He said that explosive devices for the destruction of the material were considered but that he rejected them as being impractical, that it could be destroyed only by throwing it overboard in weighted bags in water more than 100-fathoms deep. Burning was not practical because it would have taken too long, he said.

Allen W. Dulles Dies, With CIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Allen W. Dulles, former chief of the Central Intelligence Agency, died late Wednesday in Georgetown University Hospital. He was 75.

The former U.S. master spy headed the intelligence agency from 1953 until his retirement in 1961. He first was appointed chief by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and then asked to continue in his $22,000-a-year job by the late President John F. Kennedy.

Dulles was a member of the Warren Commission that investigated Kennedy's assassination and concluded the President was killed by one man, Lee Harvey Oswald.

Dulles' resignation as CIA head came a few months after the Bay of Pigs fiasco. The White House said, however, Dulles had planned before the Cuban incident to retire.

Dulles, who looked more like a grandfatherly schoolmaster than the director of a global espionage network, was a brother of the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

A CIA spokesman said his death about 11 p.m. EST Wednesday resulted from complications following an attack of the flu and pneumonia.

Freezing Rain Glazes Great Lakes Region

By The Associated Press
Snow and freezing rain hampered travel in many northern states today and closed schools and curtailed business activities in parts of the west.

Fog and rain produced additional motoring hazards in the Midwest, the lower plains and the South and continued downpours brought flood threats to Indiana.

Hardest hit by heavy snows were the Pacific Northwest, portions of the central Rockies and the northern Plains. Bitter-cold weather worsened the hardships in the Northwest and in parts of the plains.

Schools in many areas of western Oregon remained shut down today.

Freezing rain glazed highways in parts of the great lakes region and extended eastward to New York for the second day in a row.

Blizzard conditions lashed the Columbia gorge and sections of Oregon. State police closed an interstate highway for a time because of a 12-car pileup and decreased visibility.

Loggers unable to get into woods because of deep snows left many lumber mills without logs. Other businesses suffered similar problems as customers simply stayed home rather than venture into the snow and cold.

Washington Gov. Dan Evans declared a state of emergency in his state's Mason County, buried under 40 inches of snow in some places. National Guardsmen used special snow vehicles to deliver food to isolated farm families in Okanogan County, in north-central Washington, where a similar emergency existed.

Device Senses Drunk Driver

REED CITY (AP) — A Reed City wire firm says it has the answer to drunken driving—a device which can sense when a driver is drunk and won't let him start his car.

Natron Wire Corp. says it is patenting an ignition switch flashes a light after the driver turns the key. If the driver fails to activate the starter during the brief interval the light is on, the starter cannot be activated and the driver must start the procedure over again.

"It is virtually impossible for a person who has been drinking heavily to start his car," a firm spokesman says. He adds the device is based on the fact that "almost all humans have a tactile response time of about 160 milliseconds" when sober.

The firm estimates the device could be installed for under $10.

13% Of Public Share Holders

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Stock Exchange estimates 13 per cent of the nation's population hold shares in American business.

The total number of shareholders was estimated at 26.4 million, a rise of nearly 2.5 million, or more than 10 per cent, in the past year.

U.S., Saigon Warn Hanoi To Get Down To Business

PARIS (AP) — The United States and South Vietnam challenged their antagonists today to get down to business quickly to find a road to peace, warning that propaganda speeches would prevent progress in the Vietnam talks.

North Vietnam's ambassador, Xuan Thuy replied that military agreement is impossible without a settlement of political problems of South Vietnam.

The atmosphere suggested a long deadlock. South Vietnam led off the day after the delegates seated themselves around the huge round table in the International Conference Center, for the second round of full-dress talks.

Propaganda

Saigon's Ambassador Pham Dang Lam lashed out at the opening of the second session of the four-party talks. In a 5,000-word statement, he told the delegates from North Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front they had delivered "negative" statements at the opening of the conference last Saturday.

"Your statements," Lam said, "contained nothing but empty and unfounded allegations against the constitutional, legal, authentic government of the Republic of Vietnam. They contained nothing but outdated propaganda."

"I consider it necessary to remind you that we have come here not for disputes or propaganda, but in response to the legitimate aspirations for peace of the South Vietnamese people. If you persist in this negative attitude, no progress can be achieved on the road to peace."

Atmosphere Chilly

He attacked the other side's claim to represent the Vietnamese of both North and South, charging that "they have placed themselves at the service of and under the domination of international Communism... imposed a severe dictatorship of the party... and continued to reduce the population to growing poverty."

Lam himself put no new proposals before the conference although he once again supported American proposals made last Saturday.

Henry Cabot Lodge, chief of the U.S. delegation, said he would press again for discussion of the demilitarized zone, mutual troop withdrawals and prisoner exchanges, items in which the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong showed no visible interest at the first session of the enlarged conference last Saturday.

The atmosphere was chilly as the delegates from the United States, South Vietnam, North Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front arrived at the International Conference Center.

Neither side appeared ready yet to depart from set positions or to engage in a genuine dialogue. Conference sources said the two sides were likely to reaffirm the diametrically opposed stands which marked their meeting Jan. 25.

General Killed In Milwaukee Crash

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Four persons' including Wisconsin's adjutant general and his wife, were killed Wednesday night when a giant tanker plane crashed and burst into flames one-half mile south of Gen. Mitchell Field.

Seven persons were injured in the crash of the Wisconsin Air National Guard KC97L of the 128th Refueling Group.

Maj. Gen. Ralph J. Olson, 64, had been Wisconsin's adjutant general for 18 years. The other victims were T. Sgt. Gerald L. Becker, 31, Milwaukee, and Army Capt. Jerry Jerreman of Sun Prairie.

The plane, on a flight from Key West, Fla., was attempting to land in fog and rain, piloted by Col. Thomas L. Bailey, commander of the 128th and a veteran flyer who holds the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Bailey, 47, was hospitalized in fair condition with neck burns, and possible smoke inhalation. Five of the other six survivors also were burned.

Olson was returning from an army school on civil disorders at Ft. Gordon, Ga.

Nixon Open To Opposing Views

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has told some 700 officials charged with carrying out his foreign policy that there is plenty of room in his "Forward Together" administration for any dissenting views they may hold.

"Where there are strong dissenting views on foreign policy, I want these views, too," the President told a gathering of State Department officials Wednesday as he continued a round of get-acquainted visits to Capitol Hill and federal agencies.

Nixon took a slight break from that routine today for two prayer meetings, a session with the Apollo 8 astronauts and a White House dinner with the three moon-trip veterans and their wives.

Nixon held a two-hour session with the National Security Council Wednesday in the White House, devoted mainly to a discussion of the nuclear, nonproliferation treaty. But there was no word on when there will be a move toward ratification in the Senate.

Along with visits to the Senate and the State Department, Nixon made one high-level appointment, naming Gerard Smith, a 54-year-old lawyer as director of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

Nixon said he was upgrading the job and that Smith, credited by President John F. Kennedy with originating the Washington-Moscow hotline, would have "direct access to the secretary of state and to the President."

Army Official Denies Crossing Cease-Fire Line

By The Associated Press
Iraq said several Israeli jet fighters attacked Iraqi troops in Jordan today but Israel denied it.

An Israeli army spokesman in Tel Aviv said: "I completely deny this report. I don't know what gave rise to it. There has been absolutely nothing like this along the cease-fire line."

Newsmen on the Israeli side of the cease-fire line saw no sign of any unusual air activity.

A communique broadcast by Baghdad radio said the planes attacked Iraqi units east of the cease-fire line with Jordan. One Israeli jet was seen to plunge to the ground in flames, the Iraqis said.

The Iraqi communique said: "At 11:30 Baghdad time this morning, seven Israeli planes launched an air raid against our units operating on the eastern front."

"Our anti-aircraft guns shot down one attacking plane. It was seen with the naked eye crashing in flames over the occupied Syrian Golan Heights. There were no Iraqi casualties."

At the same time, a Jordanian broadcast said two Israeli fighters had violated Arab air space over the Jordan River but were driven off by anti-aircraft fire.

Iraq had charged Wednesday that Israel was preparing an attack in retaliation for the hanging of 14 Iraqis, nine of them Jews, convicted of spying in Baghdad and Basra on Monday.

There has been an outcry in Israel, the United States and several European countries, condemning the executions.

Iraq has an estimated 20,000 troops in Jordan. They had been there since the Arab-Israeli war of June 1967.

Israeli planes strafed and bombed the Iraqi forces Dec. 4, killing six soldiers, according to the Iraqis.

Israel on Wednesday denied charges from Iraq that it was massing troops for an attack on the Iraqi force in Jordan. At the same time, Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan cautioned his country they must give the government of Iraq no excuse to do more harm to the estimated 8,000 Iraqi Jews.

Along with the official denial from the Israeli army, foreign newsmen in Israel observed no unusual troop movements. In addition, rain and snow were blanketing Israel and Jordan, imposing quietness on the cease-fire line.

Dayan, one of Israel's leading hawk, also was scornful of President Charles de Gaulle's attempts to promote France as a peacemaker in the Middle East. Referring to De Gaulle's ban on arms and military spare parts to Israel, he asserted:

"All this talk of justice and peaceful aims coming from France is hypocrisy. It is being used to deny arms to a nation under siege, while Iraq continues to receive French arms."

Amid reports that another 35 persons, including 13 Jews, were being tried as spies in Baghdad, the U.S. Department of State disclosed that American oilman Paul Bail of Conneautville, Pa., and his wife are under arrest in Iraq on unspecified charges.

Bail is an engineer for Jersey Standard's Humble Oil Co. and is on loan to the Iraq Petroleum Co., a Western consortium. A member of the Belgian Embassy in Baghdad, which handles U.S. interests in Iraq, reported the couple were well treated and said Mrs. Bail is under "what amounts to a house arrest."

The U.S. government, in its second criticism of the executions in Iraq, said they seem to have been designed "to intensify the very explosive atmosphere of suspicion and hostility in the Middle East."

200 More 'No' Votes Found On Machine:

Delta Adds To Anti-DST Edge

A 200-vote error discovered in an Escanaba precinct Wednesday in the Daylight Savings Time recount of Delta County may have ended hopes of DST proponents that the November election defeat of Daylight Time could be reversed.

Coupled with a loss of 24 "yes" votes, the 200-vote mistake added a "net" of 224 votes to the "no" column, pushing the statewide margin against Daylight Savings Time back to about 550 votes.

With only 55 precincts remaining to be checked today and Friday, backers of Daylight Savings Time would have to gain an average of 10 votes per precinct to overturn the result.

Twelve precincts in Alger County were scheduled to be recounted today with the recount of 11 Schoolcraft County precincts starting Friday. Eighteen precincts in Ogemaw County and another 14 in Iosco County remain to be checked in Lower Michigan.

Reading Incorrect

The 200-vote error in Delta County, termed a "major" discrepancy by Bruno Nardi of Escanaba, state elections official, occurred in the reading of one of two voting machines used in Precinct 3 of Escanaba at Bay de Noc Community College.

In the original tally, the "no" total from the machine was recorded as 39 votes. The recount established the correct total for the machine at 239 votes.

The incorrect reading of the machine, Nardi explained Wednesday, is unusual, but can happen. He said other errors in machine precincts in other areas have developed when numbers read from a machine are transposed in recording.

Tallies Listed

One other error was discovered in the recounting of machine precincts in Escanaba and Wells Township Wednesday. In Escanaba Precinct 6, the Lemmer School, the "yes" vote total dropped 10 votes, from 272 to 262.

Original tallies in all other machine precincts, both "yes" and "no" votes, were certified as correct.

The recount figures showed that Daylight Savings Time was defeated in Delta County 9,863 to 3,616. The original count showed the county voted against the proposal 9,663 to 3,640.

Four precincts—the two Escanaba absent voter counting boards, Ford River Township and Bay de Noc Township—were unable to be recounted because of improper sealing of ballot boxes or other elections procedure problems.

Changes Made

In the other 25 precincts, including Escanaba Precinct 3 where the 200-vote error was found, original totals for either the "yes" or "no" votes were changed in 18 instances. Most of the changes, however, were small with eight totals changed only by a single vote and two others altered by two votes.

A "net" gain of nine votes on the "no" side was reported in Garden Township Precinct 1, where "yes" votes dropped from 42 to 38 and the "no" votes gained from 242 to 247. In Gladstone Precinct 1, both sides lost five votes.

Earlier this week, the margin of defeat statewide for Daylight Time was reported to have dropped to about 275 votes.

Petitioners favoring DST paid over $13,000 on the basis of $5 per precinct for recounts in 80 of 83 Michigan counties.

May Subpoena JFK's Autopsy Data: Alcock

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Asst. Dist. Atty. James L. Alcock, says a "pretty firm" decision has been made to press efforts to subpoena autopsy data on President John F. Kennedy for use in Clay Shaw's trial.

Alcock made the statement Wednesday as the Criminal District Court jury was increased to 11, with a fresh batch of prospects summoned for examination today.

The big white-haired defendant, a retired New Orleans business executive, is charged with conspiring to murder President Kennedy, assassinated in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

The autopsy data includes 45 photographs and 24 X-rays. Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison says they are vital evidence in his effort to show the President was caught in a crossfire.

Crossfire by more than one gunman would contradict the Warren Commission's conclusion that Kennedy was shot by Lee Harvey Oswald and by Oswald alone.

Donald Goulais Named President Of Shrine Club

The Delta Shrine Club held their first meeting of the new year Tuesday and the following officers were elected: Donald Goulais, president; John MacElhattan, vice-president; and Gunnar Beck, secretary-treasurer. The outgoing president is Dr. M. J. Robinson.

It was announced that Ahmed Temple of Marquette has selected Clarence G. Sturdy to be a delegate to the Shrine Imperial Council at Seattle, Wash. on July 1 of this year.

U.S. Bombers Attack Commie Supply Routes

SAIGON (AP) — From 15 to 30 American B52 bombers have been attacking Communist supply routes through Laos each day, and some of them have been hitting north of the 17th parallel, U.S. military sources said today.

The disclosure came shortly after the U.S. Command denied a charge by North Vietnam's foreign ministry that the huge eight-jet bombers had attacked "heavily populated" areas Sunday in North Vietnam's Quang Binh province, which is just north of the 17th parallel and just east of Laos.

The command said there had been no B52 raids on North Vietnam or the demilitarized zone astride the 17th parallel since last Oct. 28.

Although the U.S. government refuses to admit any military operations in Laos, it is common knowledge that the end of the bombing of North Vietnam on Nov. 1 was followed by a sharp increase in U.S. bombing of North Vietnamese supply traffic down the Ho Chi Minh Trail through Laos.

North Of 17th

Reliable sources said the B52 strikes on eastern Laos have ranged as far as 30 miles north of the 17th parallel in efforts to smash the enemy supply columns as far away as possible. Some of these strikes are near the North Vietnamese border.

Otherwise, only minor action was reported today as South Vietnam marked the first anniversary of the Viet Cong's biggest offensive of the war.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands reported attacks from inside the demilitarized zone on a group of U.S. Marines and on a small observation plane, a terrorist attack inside Saigon and the usual scattered shelling during the night. Two Marines below the DMZ and two Vietnamese in Saigon were wounded.

190 Killed Last Week

Despite the continuing lull in large-scale ground fighting, the steady pace of the war was reflected in the casualty report for last week, issued today. It said 190 Americans, 264 South Vietnamese and 2,350 enemy troops were killed in combat last week. The totals were about the same as those the week before, when 196 Americans, 292 South Vietnamese and 2,451 enemy were reported killed.

The report raised the total number of U.S. military personnel reported killed in action in Vietnam to 31,181 and the total number of enemy to at least 438,937.

It was a year ago today—on Jan. 30—that the Viet Cong shattered a cease-fire in honor of the lunar new year celebration called Tet with attacks on seven major provincial capitals, street fighting in Da Nang, and assaults on four American airfields.

State Develops Fishing Access

The development of a boat launching site at the mouth of the Whitefish River near Rapid River village on Little Bay de Noc is under way, the Department of Natural Resources announces.

Present plans call for the new site to be completed before the coho salmon runs begin in the fall of 1969 in the Whitefish River. The project is supervised by Arthur Feldhauser, regional waterways supervisor, Marquette.

Coho salmon were planted in the Whitefish River and there were indications in the fall of 1968 that the planting was successful. Some cohos were in evidence in a return run to the spawning ground, "a good sign" that a full scale run might be anticipated this year.

The Department is also to open bids this month for the installation of a well at Fayette State Park and a new campground at Straits State Park.

Contracts were awarded also for the construction of a toilet shower building and sidewalks at Straits State Park.

Work is continuing on the development of the West Branch Road and parking area at Indian Lake State Park. Installation of a well at Van Riper State Park is also underway.

Children And Smokers Cause Of Most Fires

Keep matches away from children and stop adults from dropping lighted cigarettes in the beds and chairs and you have removed two of the major causes of fires, reports Escanaba Fire Chief Palmer Derouin.

The annual report of the Fire Department shows that children accidentally started 24 fires in Escanaba last year, compared to 17 the year before. These were fires not intentionally started. In addition there were 10 incendiary fires by minors.

Smokers by their carelessness caused eight fires last year, more than in 1967. Other major causes of fires include defective heating devices, rubbish burning, and defective chimneys and stacks.

The report shows there were fewer but more costly fires in Escanaba last year than in 1967, with the number of fires declining from 232 to 215 but the property loss by fire in the city increased from $38,359 to $41,324.

In addition to the fires in Escanaba, the city fire department by agreement with the adjacent townships answered 31 calls outside the city last year, 10 more than the year before. The number of dwelling fires outside the city increased from 9 to 13.

There were no fires in either year that caused deaths, either to citizens or to firemen.

Grass and brush fires accounted for most of the alarms, followed by residential and automobiles. There were no fires in schools or theaters.

The department was called 27 times for rescue and emergency missions, covering a wide range of mishaps from children locked in second floor bathrooms to elderly persons suffering heart attacks.

False alarms—13 of them—continued to plague the firemen; and in addition there were 16 "honest mistakes" or smoke scares in which individuals became alarmed over what they believed was a fire situation and called the department.

The prevention of fires is one of the major objectives of the department. Many inspections are made and literature is distributed encouraging fire safety.

The firemen made 627 routine fire inspections, 45 special, and 18 follow-up checks; plus testing 326 fire alarm boxes; and spent 2,431 hours in fire department training last year.

Chief Palmer said the training hours had been increased with assignment of Capt. James Olson to the responsibility of scheduling and preplanning training programs.

"The system is working out very well," the chief reported.

Utility Is Asking Early Rate Action

Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. has applied to the Michigan Public Service Commission for a hearing on an early date on the company's Aug. 30 request for a rate increase.

"We have asked the MPSC to consider our application immediately, so our earnings can be brought up to the point where additional bonds can be issued," W. E. Raffin, northern division manager, explained.

"We expect to issue $15 million in bonds during the third quarter of this year to finance our extensive construction program."

The utility's Upper Peninsula service area extends from the state border north almost to Lake Superior between Ontonagon and Manistique. All or parts of Dickinson, Gogebic, Ontonagon, Houghton, Baraga, Iron, Marquette, Menominee, Delta, Alger and Schoolcraft counties are served by WMPCO.

Group Deplores Road Fund Raid

The president of the Michigan Good Roads Federation said today that Gov. William Milliken "has started his administration on the wrong foot" by proposing to take $1.6 million from state highway funds for State Police road patrols.

James R. Vivian Sr., Houghton, who heads the road organization, added that the proposal would be a "costly blunder which could affect all Michigan motorists."

Keep Roads Safe

The Federation leader said the raid on state highway funds could reduce Michigan's ability to match federal aid, halting up to $3.2 million annually in construction projects, and would seriously jeopardize already critically short road maintenance funds used to keep highways in safe travel condition.

Traffic Safety Goal Of Course

RAPID RIVER — A new educational program has begun at Rapid River High School.

This program is new in two ways: First, driver education is being offered at night rather than during the school day and secondly, the emphasis of the course is on traffic safety.

"With this type of program it is hopeful that we can create a better attitude toward and in the teenage driver," said Art Vasold, driver education instructor.

The driver education course at Rapid River will be taught to juniors and sophomores from 7 to 9 p.m. on Mondays.

The 45 students will be divided into two groups, with the oldest students in the first group. Two groups are used to take advantage of teaching better driving and safety attitudes, Vasold said.

The automobile for the program has been supplied by the Ford Motor Co. and Northern Motors of Escanaba.

The automobile is equipped with two outside mirrors, dual controls, seat belts, safety door latches, and non-tinted windshields. It will be used in the program from 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. each day. Approximately 7000 miles will be driven to give each student experience in the many types of driving conditions.

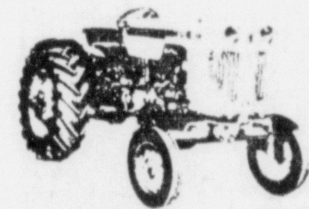

Rabies Clinic Set Saturday

A rabies clinic for dogs and cats over five months old will be conducted by Dr. Donald Alimenti at the Delta Animal Hospital from 2 to 5 p.m. Saturday.

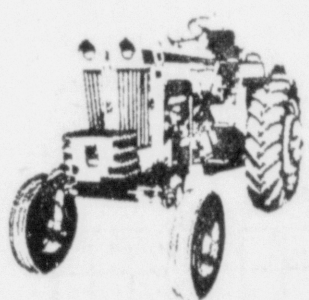

Dr. Alimenti cautioned that although Delta County has had an excellent rabies protection program, there was a positive case of rabies in Escanaba last fall. He said an Escanaba man was bitten by a bat which was found to be rabid and the man had to take a series of shots to combat rabies.

He pointed out that if one bat is rabid, there are others and urged dog and cat owners to have their pets vaccinated.

Blue Snow Winter

This winter's snows in the Upper Peninsula are a reminder of the force of nature in our lives. There's been such progress in creating a man-made environment that we forget at times that we are subjects of our surroundings, not masters of them.

December's snowfall in the U. P. was the heaviest since the 1880s and we have already used up so much of our normal winter's quota of snowfall that it seems inevitable that with five months of snowfall left we will certainly break some records.

We look backward for a comparison as we look ahead in hope for an early spring and the deer hunters among us who claim that they can "think like a deer" must certainly have special worries, as the deer most certainly should.

When the Indians owned the Upper Peninsula they lived along its perimeter for the most part in the summer, their chief food being fish. Their settlements were along the lakes and the rivers, where fish were available, and they had their little maize gardens there and other early anchors of settlement. (They grew maize even at St. Ignace, where they complained to the first whites that it seldom ripened.)

In the winter the Indians ventured inland in hunting parties to get meat. They made snowshoes to get them over the deep snows.

The white men adopted the snowshoes to cruise the pine stands and they cursed the deep snow and invented stories like Paul Bunyan's yarn of the Winter of the Blue Snow. It started falling in the far north first and gradually covered the Great Lakes Country. That winter lasted 5 years, Paul said. The groundhog came out of his hole on Feb. 2 and was blown back in so deep it took him a half decade to surface again.

The snow fell to a depth of 10 feet and it was as blue as the sky. Its influence created the first blue spruces as there hadn't been any before that winter and it also colored Paul's ox, Babe, a deep blue. Some of the Upper Peninsula's snow shovelers this year are sure we're in another winter of blue snow.

We know how deep the snow was in the 1870s and 1880s because we can measure it on the stumps that remain from early pine logging. They stand high as a man's head still, indicating that men standing deep in the snow swung their crosscuts on the old corks at waist level and left a sea of stumps of Bunyanesque height. So to Pine Stump Junction north of Newberry to see these mementoes of early logging in the deep snow. They have become a tourist attraction.

The loggers used oxen in logging until about 1890 when horses were in strong. Working cattle had been favored because of their great strength and ability to work in wet ground with their splayed hooves. Horses dominated logging until World War I, when the tractor was coming in. The war gave it a big push and World War II introduced the bulldozer, which is unmatched for the making and clearing of roads. It permits an unparalleled conquest of winter if expense doesn't matter.

This winter's deep snows in the U. P. have shown that loggers with light equipment like small farm tractors cannot cope with the needs or energy in deep snow logging, but that the heavy equipment can handle it. Logging is not at normal levels in the U. P. this winter, but the state of the pulpwood market influences this, as well as the snow conditions.

The snow has been welcomed by our increasing number of snowmobilers and has been so abundant that some of them have complained that there's too much of it. Its greatest effects o date have been on logging and wildlife. It poses a famine threat to deer, because it brought o much winter so early.

And it is a reminder that if we are to have maximum deer hunting we must have a system f logging to produce winter browse for deer when it is most needed. Systematic cutting of edar to provide winter feed in major yarding reans development of an adequate system of inter truck roads and cooperation between ighway officials, the Department of Natural esources and loggers to keep winter wood traf-ic moving in strategic areas.

Paul Bunyan would be surprised at the trouble that surplus snow can make in 1969. "They an get to the moon and back," he'd say "and hey can't get into Johnson's swamp where I ogged in 1870. We goofed when we dropped xen!"

plendid Program

The annual dinner meeting of the Delta ounty Historical Society at The Terrace pre-ented an outstanding program to the 130 who ttended. It was a report on the life and times f the famed Elliott Family of Sac Bay on the arden Peninsula and Mr. and Mrs. Clint Dun-ghan and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bender put to-ether a fascinating look at this pioneer family i pictures and recorded narrative.

The program will certainly be in demand r regional and state historical conventions and is the kind of good thing that encourages mulation. If our best historical subjects can at this kind of presentation our people will e introduced to a new interest in the past of their n area.

Mrs. Clint (Haldora) Dunathan was elec- l president of the Historical Society, the first oman so honored. It is a most deserving honor r a leader of our historical society, whose hus- and has been honored for his contributions to ate history making by appointment to the ighigan Historical Commission, but, of course, means even more work in this public service.

Ernie Rankin, of the Marquette Historical ociety, attended the dinner and marveled at e enthusiasm which the Delta Society has been le to generate. "We have 500 dues-paying embers in Marquette," he said "but we have heck of a time getting them to attend meet- ings!"

Win At Bridge

By JACOBY & SON
Jake Winkman's pupils all manage to develop a reasonable amount of skill in dummy play. In today's hand we see Winkman as dummy.

South's final bid of four spades did not meet with Professor Winkman's approval. As he points out South bid four spades all by himself and there was no reason for South to think that he would be able to make it. Actually, North might have jumped to four spades after his partner's three-diamond bid but Winkman knows his pupils pretty well and was not going to fall into that trap.

West opened the king of clubs and continued. South ruffed and played the ace and queen of spades. There was really no point in trying to get to dummy for a trump finesse. West's double had clearly located the king of trumps.

West was in with the king and might well have led a heart but West took the easy route of continuing clubs.

South ruffed again and played his last trump in order to draw West's last one. East had been forced to discard twice and had played a diamond and his last spade.

South ran off his three high diamonds to discard one heart from dummy. Then he stopped to think awhile. Winkman could almost watch his mental processes.

Where was the king of hearts? West had shown up with ace-king of clubs and king of spades. East had bid twice. Would he have done it with just the queen of clubs and the heart jack? No, he wouldn't.

How can I make this contract with the king of hearts in the East hand?

Eventually, South worked it out. He led his fourth diamond and discarded another heart from dummy. East was on lead and had to play a heart. South let it ride around to dummy's queen and made his doubled contract.

What do you do now?

A—Pass. Your partner is trying to get to seven but there is an obvious missing card. He just can't hold the queen of hearts or he would have bid the grand slam.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding three hearts over your two no-trump your partner has jumped to four hearts. What do you do now?

Herman Has 200 Inches Of Snow

HERMAN (AP) — The tiny Baraga County community of Herman got its 200th inch of snow this season Tuesday, putting it in sight of the record for seasonal snowfall in the Upper Peninsula. Delaware, a nearly abandoned mining community in Keweenaw, was hit with 294.5 inches in 1964-65.

Legal Services Give Rights New Force

Several statements included in your editorial "About Legal Services" are unclear. Perhaps I can be of some assistance.

In today's complicated world, more than at any other time in the history of our democracy, lawyers are indispensable to people in conflict with each other or with the agencies and institutions, both public and private, that affect their lives daily. Yet the fees that a lawyer must charge for his services put those services beyond the reach of millions of our citizens, and without such services they are stripped of the very protection for which law exists. The purpose of the legal services program is to provide to people without means that protection.

A system of law is only as good as the respect that it earns from the people who live under the system. If the law is to be respected by all, it must extend to all an adequate and equal measure of justice. The denial of justice is the quickest road to anarchy.

The settlers of the American colonies knew the meaning of injustice and were incited to rebellion. What they established in the law that followed their rebellion was the principle that justice should be free and equally accessible to all men. We should be ashamed to admit that this principle has never been fully realized.

Our society is based on the concept that law is the only appropriate means for the settlement of controversy. An orderly system of law, existing as the equal ally of all of our citizens, is the only alternative that we have to violence and disorder. And unless such a system makes justice equally available to each of us, regardless of means, it offers no guarantee of protection for any of us.

The financing through government of free legal services to those who are unable to purchase a lawyer's time and talent is a sound and, today, most necessary investment. Rights are meaningless to those who lack the means to secure or enforce them. Our very Declaration of Independence, which enumerated certain inalienable rights, proclaimed "That to secure these rights governments are instituted among men."

Ours is a government of the people, by the people and for the people and the state's most sacred duty is to protect the people, even against the power of the state, and even if the state must pay the cost. Equality is so deeply rooted in the body and spirit of our laws that it has become one and the same with the meaning that we ascribe to the word justice.

Certainly this does not mean that a legal services program is not or should not be controversial. The law in a democratic society is the institution by which people deal with controversy. Lawyers are involved daily in controversy. The day that lawyers retreat from controversy they will have abandoned the institution that they are sworn to defend.

In the 28 months that Upper Peninsula Legal Services, Inc., has been operated in the Upper Peninsula its six staff attorneys serving all of the 15 counties of the Upper Peninsula have received more than 4-600 applications for assistance from persons residing in more than 160 separate communities. Approximately 80 per cent of these applications were accepted for either advice or representation.

Of the more than 3,000 applications accepted, fewer than 250 have resulted in divorce. The types of cases handled by the program fall into categories too numerous to list here. Basically, these problems have involved contracts, employment, domestic relations, land and housing, debtor-creditor relations and misdemeanors.

In probate court the program has been involved in juvenile delinquency problems, child custody disputes, adoption proceedings and commitment proceedings. In the area of governmental agencies the program has represented clients with respect to their rights to old age assistance, aid to the disabled, ADC, social security, veteran's benefits and unemployment compensation.

Contrary to one of the representations in your editorial, the purpose of the program is not to do for people what prior to the program they did for themselves. The purpose of the program, like the purpose of our medical assistance programs, is to provide to people essential services which otherwise are not, and have not been available to them. Many, if not most of the people, represented by the legal services program have never had legal advice or representation although they have had legal problems repeatedly and continuously throughout their lives.

The frustration that this condition can produce and the expression to which it can give rise, is nowhere more apparent than in our cities today. Unless we deliver now and continue to deliver in the future upon promises made when this Nation was founded, we may all find ourselves once again struggling to preserve those freedoms and that sense of justice which we have for too long taken for granted.

Nino E. Green
(Former Director of Legal Services)

Editor's note: The editorial reference stated: "Essentially it (Legal Services, Inc.) is one more step into socialism, with the government undertaking to do for people what they used to do for themselves in the day when divorce was less acceptable and when people saved until they could buy something and did not accept more easy credit than they could repay." We think it would be difficult to establish that even with Legal Services we are in a better position today for equal justice than we were under the old conditions of society and legal practice, but assuredly we are better off than we would be without it.

THANKS

On behalf of the Escanaba Seventh-day Adventist Church, I would like to thank Escanaba residents for their generous support of our church's 65th annual World Service Appeal, which closed this month.

Residents of the Escanaba area contributed generously. All contributions will go to a central fund with allotments made to humanitarian projects according to need.

Seventh-day Adventists are among the "givingest" Christians in the world. Last year the 398,614 Adventists in the United States and Canada gave more than $131.5 million to their church to carry on its work around the world.

It is gratifying to realize that Escanaba residents are aware of the suffering and ignorance prevalent in many parts of the world and have given their financial support to aid these unfortunate persons of all races, colors and creeds. L. A. Pomeroy, Pastor, Seventh-day Adventist Church

Ann Landers

Insurance Policies Well Keep Secret

Dear Ann Landers: I am a Lesbian. The word makes me sick but there is nothing I can do about it. All I know is I am 18 years old and I wish I was dead.

I keep asking myself how I got this way and why it had to happen to me. Whenever I see a boy and girl holding hands, laughing and talking on a street corner, I feel like throwing myself under the wheels of a truck. I wonder how many people ever thank the good Lord for just letting them be normal.

Don't suggest a psychiatrist. I couldn't afford one on my own and I'd rather die than tell my parents what is wrong with me. If they knew, it would kill them.

I don't know why I am writing to you because you can't help me. I guess I had to talk to somebody and you are the only one there is. Thank you for listening, Ann. — NIETHER FISH NOR FOWL

Dear Friend: I can't help you, but you can help yourself. Tell your parents you are moody and fearful and you want psychiatric help. Therapy will probably not "cure" you, but it will enable you to verbalize your feelings without fear or shame. And it will do something else. It will help you stop hating yourself. Many people with your problem lead useful, productive lives. Self understanding and self acceptance are the goals. Good luck.

Dear Ann Landers: Dad lives with us, which is fine. My wife adores him and the children think he is wonderful. For 77 he is amazingly alert. So what's the problem?

Dad's health is slowly failing and he refuses to discuss his insurance arrangements with us. I am not interested in cash. Dad can't have saved much after raising a family on a barber's pay. I do know, however, that he has some insurance policies, but I don't know the name of the company. What am I supposed to do, Ann? Run an ad in the paper when Dad dies?

A few months ago I told Dad I'd like to talk to him about his insurance. He said, "Don't worry, Son, everything is taken care of." What now?—UPPA GENSTIT

Dear Up: Tell Dad that all you want to know is the name of the insurance company that handles his policies, nothing more. Explain that unless he tells you, all the money he has paid out may go down the drain.

Dear Ann: Torgel wants to marry me and I have said yes. Several months ago he "laid all his cards out on the table." He informed me that his is a diabetic.

While he was talking I felt guilty because I am keeping something from him. I wear an upper denture.

If you say I should confess this to him before we marry I will do so.—ST. LOUIS WOMAN

Dear Woman: Diabetes is an illness. Dentures do not fall into this category. Since you feel guilty, I suggest you tell Torgel in a lighthearted way that your uppers are store bought. And don't be surprised if it turns out that he has a full set.

How far should a teen-age couple go? Can necking be safe? When does it become too hot to handle? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking And Petting — What Are The Limits?" Mail your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50c in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dutton, Friends In Mud Brigade

GLENDORA, Calif. (AP) — In the mud brigade were William Dutton, a 40-year-old school teacher, and two dozen of his neighbors.

Each, armed with a shovel or a wheelbarrow, was attacking a sea of thick, oozy mud that covered the floor of Dutton's foothills home.

In a bedroom, chairs and a table were encrusted with mud. The brown goopy stuff was four feet deep in places.

"Luckily, we knew it was coming and got the children roomed up with neighbors," Dutton said Tuesday. Most of the couple's furniture and clothing had been stored in the garages of friends.

A deluge of rain after eight days of downpours sent a wall of mud through the storm drain behind the Duttons' four-bedroom, ranch-style home in this Los Angeles suburb.

For two days Dutton, his wife Kay and neighbors with similar problems of their own have tried to get the sticky stuff out. There's still a mountain of mud in the backyard and mud 10 feet thick in the storm drain.

MSU Students Against Firing

EAST LANSING (AP) — Several hundred Michigan State University students — angered by the firing of a well-known psychology professor — have been holding meetings to figure out what they might do about it.

The students learned early this week that Bertram E. Garskof, an associate professor of psychology who wears long sideburns and a shaggy mustache, has been fired, effective in June.

Garskof, an unsuccessful New Politics party candidate for Congress in the November election, teaches some 1,000 students.

He told his classes Monday that his contract was being terminated. There have since been two rallies of interested students.

More are planned and the group reportedly is drawing up a list of "demands" to submit to MSU administrators.

Garskof first was hired for three years, ending Aug. 31, 1969.

During a review of faculty members last fall, the Department of Psychology recommended that Garskof's contract be renewed, starting Sept. 1, 1969, for two years without tenure.

Dr. Clarence L. Winder, dean of the College of Social Science, said recommendations were made at that time to have Garskof make some changes in his teaching methods.

Winder said Garskof had not officially replied to the offer of a two-year contract when it was decided to withdraw that offer.

'Bad Leader' To Lead In Vietnam

DETROIT (AP) — An Army prosecutor, criticized for his handling of a case, now faces the prospect of leading troops in Vietnam with a record which states he is "untrustworthy, a bad leader."

Army Lt. Thomas McGuire, 26, of Niles, Mich., leaves this McGuire claims the bad report stemmed directly from his reluctance to push prosecution of an enlisted man who was to be court martialed for possession of marijuana. McGuire maintained the marijuana was taken from the soldier's car in an illegal search.

"I think we have the Army in an untenable position," said McGuire's attorney, George C. Edwards. "On the one hand they

Suit Dismissed

DETROIT (AP) — Tom McGuire's efforts to eliminate what he feels is a damaging report on his character have been all but stymied.

A suit to remove the efficiency report from his Army record was dismissed and denied Wednesday without opinion in the U.S. Court of Military Appeals in Washington, McGuire said.

All that remains is what amounts to an informal appeal to President Nixon. McGuire refused to comment on the case saying any comment would be improper.

Donna Howell Is Easter Seal Child

CHICAGO (AP) — Seven-year-old Donna Kay Howell of Tallahassee, Fla., victim of a rare childhood stroke, has been named the 1969 National Easter Seal Child.

Choice of the pretty brunette was made Wednesday by Sumner G. Whittier, executive director of the National Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

The society said Donna Kay has made a full recovery from a speech defect after a month of treatment.

The girl will join entertainer Carol Burnett, campaign chairman, in Washington, D.C., on March 1 to open the annual Easter Seal campaign.

weekend for Panama and two weeks of jungle training, a prelude to a tour in Vietnam where he would presumably be a tank unit commander. While serving at Ft. Meade, Md., he received a bad efficiency report.

The young lieutenant is suing the Army, demanding removal of the efficiency report from his record before being sent to Vietnam.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's new directive on government-insured mortgage rates presents several states with a peculiar problem — the interest payments authorized by the federal government violates their usury laws.

In a White House meeting Tuesday, George Romney, secretary of Housing and Urban Development, reported the apparent conflict between the 7½ per cent federal allowances and the interest rate limits imposed by seven states.

Romney announced Friday, that federal rates were being raised to 7½ per cent in order to keep money flowing into the house market.

The states with laws forbidding interest as high as 7½ per cent are Michigan, where Romney was governor, Illinois, New York, Iowa, North Carolina, South Carolina and North Dakota.

No special action is planned on the matter, a Housing and Urban Development spokesman said later, since Romney's order set only the upper limit on rates.

The spokesman said mortgage lenders in states involved will not be able to charge the maximum interest. In some other states, he said, the one-half per cent loan insurance fee charged by the Federal Housing Administration and other mortgage charges could raise the new rate above permissible levels.

"The mortgage lender has to watch out for this," the spokesman said. "It's quite a complex thing."

Devons To Speak

GM Plans To Up Production

NEW YORK (AP) — James M. Roche, chairman of General Motors Corp. told newsmen Wednesday that GM planned to produce about 420,000 cars in February, an increase from the 339,000 cars produced in the same month last year.

He spoke at a news conference following the New York Savings Bond Luncheon. He is chairman of the 1969 U.S. Industrial Payroll Savings Committee.

He said he still expected the industry to sell between 9.23 million and 9.5 million new cars this year, the same estimate he made in mid-December.

Asked about reports that Chrysler Corp. would close five of its plants for one or two weeks next month, Roche said "all I know about Chrysler is what I read in the newspapers."

He added it was normal in the automobile industry to make production adjustments from time to time to balance inventories.

As for GM, he said, "our inventories are in balance, and we do not anticipate any production schedule changes."

In his luncheon speech, Roche said every citizen could help moderate the forces of inflation by the regular purchase of savings bonds.

"The one great advantage of payroll savings to our nation," he said, "is that it encourages thrift through a systematic program, and-most importantly - it taps real savings and reduces the pressure on government to draw upon the commercial money market."

Roche noted that more than $52 billion, or 23 per cent of the privately held portion of the federal debt, currently was in Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares.

LANSING (AP) — State officials were generally unenthusiastic Wednesday about Michigan's proposed new Capitol, saying "nobody was exactly overwhelmed" with the modernistic design.

"If that (the proposed structure) isn't a monstrosity, I never saw one," said Sen. Harvey Lodge, R-Waterford. He added that the cluster of three buildings looks like "oil tanks at Gary."

The Capitol complex consists of three buildings situated above a plaza. A 220 foot pylon would tower above the structure. Looking roughly like the space needle built for the Seattle World's Fair, the pylon was called by architects a "Beacon of Democracy."

"I like the concept of three separate buildings with a common mall," said Sen. Thomas Schweigert, R-Petoskey, "but the over-all appearance at this time leaves me a little cold."

Spokesmen for Smith, Hinchman & Grylls Associates Inc. of Detroit, architects who designed the structure, said the proposed plan was the 20th design submitted.

"This represents a considerable improvement over other preliminary plans," said Gov. William Milliken. "The concept is exciting and it is pleasing architecturally and aesthetically."

He added that he had not seen the scale model of the proposed $48.9 million polished granite structure.

Tom Brown, R-Lansing, said the structure "looks like something Dow Chemical would build for a research building. It doesn't look like a Capitol building."

"I don't know what that radar tower is supposed to represent," he added. "It looks like a spider web on top of a pole. There's a lot more support against it around here now."

"I showed pictures around quite a bit at lunch and to people on the street," he said. "Nobody was exactly overwhelmed."

Milliken has recommended that $5 million be included in next fiscal year's budget to pay for planning and initial construction.

It would take about five years to complete, architects said. The proposed Capitol would be located west of the present Capitol.

Dismiss Ticket Fixing Charge

DETROIT (AP) — A jury found Dan D. Martin, former chief of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department Road Patrol, and three former union officials innocent Wednesday of charges stemming from alleged ticket fixing in the sheriff's department.

The jury acquitted the four of charges of conspiracy and obstructing justice.

The 61-year-old Martin broke into tears after the verdict was announced before Judge George E. Bowles, climaxing the month-long trial.

Martin, suspended after the ticket-fixing charges were made public in 1965, said he would attempt to return to his inspector's post at the road patrol.

At the trial, Martin testified he voided many traffic tickets issued by the road patrol, but said he did so on orders of his superiors.

In effect, the jury decided that Martin's voiding of the tickets did not constitute an illegal action.

The charges resulted from a grand jury investigation after Paul Paciorek, a former road patrol sergeant, said he hid 4,000 voided tickets in a chicken coop on his Brownstown Township farm.

Convict Mafia Figure On Evading Income Taxes

DETROIT (AP) — Reputed Mafia leader Matthew "Mike" Rubino was convicted Wednesday by a federal court jury of evading $130,000 in income taxes.

The jury—six women and six men—deliberated 3 hours and 46 minutes before finding Rubino guilty.

Rubino was mentioned in a U.S. Senate crime hearing in 1963 as "one of the big men" in the Detroit-area Mafia.

The government contended Rubino and his wife filed joint income tax returns for the years 1958-1961, reporting income of $101,423 rather than the $331,731 Rubino allegedly actually earned.

Rubino paid taxes of $34,322 for the period, compared with the $164,462 the government said he owed.

The maximum penalty for conviction is five years in prison and $10,000 fine for each of four counts.

Although he has been arrested 30 times in the past 40 years, Rubino has been convicted only twice: once on a narcotics violation and once on a counterfeit money charge.

In 1951, Rubino was asked at a Senate crime hearing in Detroit: "Have you ever earned an honest dollar in your life?"

Rubino refused to answer on the grounds that he might incriminate himself.

Propose Bill To Fill Lt. Governor's Post

LANSING (AP)—A bill which would fill a vacancy in the office of lieutenant governor—such as the one now existing in Michigan—was introduced in the Senate Wednesday with bipartisan support.

Introduced by majority leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, and endorsed by Senate Democratic chief Sander Levin of Berkeley, the measure would make the president pro tempore of the Senate acting lieutenant governor when a vacancy occurs.

Currently, a vacancy is filled by appointment of the governor with Senate consent. But Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has ruled the post cannot be filled when a lieutenant governor becomes governor, as William Milliken did Jan. 22.

If the measure won legislative approval, Rep. Thomas Schweigert, R-Petoskey, Senate president pro tem, would become acting lieutenant governor and draw the post's $22,500 annual salary while remaining a senator.

Another proposed constitutional amendment introduced would extend the terms of state representatives from two years to four—a touchy political issue that failed of adoption in the House last year.

Introduced by three Democrats and two Republicans, the Senate measure would provide House members would be elected beginning in 1972 in years when there are presidential contests.

House Republicans rejected such a proposal in 1968, fearing the narrowly balanced chamber would swing to the Democrats if members were chosen in presidential election years.

Democrats, meanwhile, voted down a four-year measure providing election of House members in off-years. State senators already have four-year terms and are elected in off-years.

Mrs. F. Schmitt Tells Of Russian Trip At PTA Meet

ROCK—Mrs. Fred Schmitt of Escanaba showed colored slides on her trip to Helsinki and Russia in April, 1967, during the Rock PTA meeting Monday evening.

It was interesting to note that of the 234 million people in the Soviet Union, only 10 per cent are communists, yet the minority is ruling the majority. Mrs. Joanne Tardiff accompanied her to Rock and explained about air travel.

Members of the Rock PTA were also entertained with several numbers by the following members of the Rock School Band: Carolyn Kulack, Carol Weingartner, Priscilla Waak, Annette Kulack and Susan Laitinen.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Harold Lusardi, president, announced that the PTA has discontinued to belong to the National organization and will meet as a local Parent-Teachers Club. Mrs. Helmi Lepisto's first grade room won the attendance award.

In regard to adult education, Mrs. Lusardi informed the group that the only class having enough adults to begin is the welding group, under the direction of Kenneth Dean. A few more members are needed if classes in typing, art, sewing and knitting are to be formed.

Anyone interested should call Mrs. Lusardi by Feb. 1.

Lunch was served in the home economics room after the meeting.

Dr. McInerney Guest Speaker At Nurses Meet

The Delta District Nurses Association held their monthly dinner meeting Tuesday evening at the Sherman Hotel.

Dr. Thomas McInerney, guest speaker for the meeting, spoke on Chronic Bronchitis and Emphysema. He stated that chronic bronchitis eventually develops into emphysema, causing obstruction of the air sacs in the lungs which leads to the inability of carbon dioxide exhalation.

Patients with this condition can inhale, but loose expiration force. The carbon dioxide which remains in the lungs accumulates in the blood stream, causing acidosis.

Treatment of emphysema has been successful with the use of bronchodilator drugs that combat mucosal edema and bronchospasm. In addition to medications, a pressure breathing device called intermittent positive pressure breathing allows patients with airway obstruction to inhale these medications more effectively.

Miss Joan Bowden, registered inhalation therapist demonstrated the use of the IPPB machine at the meeting. St. Francis Hospital now has two such machines in use with demand for additional machines.

The machine can also be used following surgery and on patients with other chronic lung diseases.

President Elizabeth Nelson announced that the Board of Directors will meet at Bay De Noc College on Feb. 10 at 7 p. m.

Why is the champagne cocktail so special? Is it the way it is made: drenching the sugar lump with aromatic bitters, adding the twist of lemon with an ice cube, and then filling the stemmed glass with chilled, sparkling champagne? Or is it the taste: the lingering of bitter-sweetness, released as the sugar lump slowly dissolves?

Dice said that the coho is only one of four different types

Colorado Cupid Getting Ready For The Big Day

LOVELAND, Colo. (AP) — With Valentine's Day only about two weeks away, postmaster Fred Brewer is getting ready to play Cupid again.

Each year, an estimated 100,000 valentines are processed by Brewer and his staff for people in all 50 states and many foreign countries who want their messages of love to carry the postmark of this fittingly named town.

Brewer himself hand cancels about 8,000 valentines, including the ones for his wife and five grandchildren.

In addition to the "load of 18,500 for remailing," the Valentines are stamped with a bare-bottomed Cupid in a cowboy hat and a verse. This year's reads, "The heart-L brand reaches far throughout the land."

The mailing campaign for the Feb. 14 hearts and flowers day was first thought of in 1947. Anyone who wants the special postmark simply stamps and addresses his valentine as usual, encloses it in another envelope and mails it to the postmaster in Loveland for redistribution.

Getting into the spirit of things, the Chamber of Commerce has, for the past eight years, chosen a "Miss Loveland Valentine" from among the community's high school seniors.

There are three other Lovelands in the postal guide—in Ohio, Oklahoma and Iowa. None of them, however, gets more than a few cards for remailing.

Other romantics can choose from Loving or Lovelady in Texas; Lovely, Okla.; Lovelock, Nev.; Loves Park, Ill.; or Love Valley, N.C.

Charter boat services, improved docking facilities, fish processing, added campsites and package week-end tours were some of the possibilities he mentioned that could make the coho fishing in this area more attractive.

Coho Slides
Dice added that local government would probably have to make some decisions on proper land use at the waterfront due to the coho impact. Several cities in lower Michigan have experienced changes in their waterfronts since the coho boom began, he said.

Handorf opened the meeting by showing slides of the coho fishing activity in the Thompson area during the late summer and fall of 1968. Handorf estimated that about 100 people were fishing each day at the mouth of the Thompson Creek during the first three weeks in August. The ranks of fishermen swelled to approximately 250 per day during the latter part of August and September, he said.

Aside from the many fishermen who traveled into the area by automobile about 40 flights were recorded into the Schoolcraft County airport by coho fishermen in 1968.

Report Increase
Resort owners, Mr. and Mrs. Hasell Osterhout, reported a sizeable increase in business during the coho season and said they have received many inquiries and some reservations for next summer in anticipation of another good fishing season.

Land Proposal Includes Seney

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation to add "unspoiled and natural" areas in Wisconsin, Michigan and Maine to the national Wilderness Preservation System was proposed Wednesday by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis.

Nelson said it marks the first step to acquire lands in the Midwest and East under the authority of the 1964 Wilderness Act.

Under the bill, Seney, Huron Islands and Michigan Islands wilderness areas in Michigan, the Wisconsin Islands Wilderness and the Edmunds and Birch Islands Wilderness areas in Maine would be included in the National Wilderness System.

These isolated islands, he said, are important nesting and breeding areas for numerous kinds of waterfowl, including a wide variety of herons and gulls.

11 Precincts To Be Checked

Recount Starts Friday

The Schoolcraft County recount of votes cast in the Nov. 5 general election on the Daylight Savings Time proposal will begin at 9 a. m. Friday.

The recount will be held in the Circuit Courtroom of the courthouse with all county precincts being recounted except Manistique Township.

In Schoolcraft County, the proposal was defeated by 2,158 votes with 2,874 votes in the "no" column and 716 scored as "yes".

The statewide recount is being conducted under the supervision of the state elections division of the Secretary of State's office. Bruno Nardi of Escanaba, Upper Peninsula inspector, will direct the recount.

Two teams of three precinct workers each, the County Board of Canvassers and a stenographer will be officially involved in the recount. Challengers, representing the Chamber of Commerce, also are expected to be present.

The State Chamber of Commerce is one of the private interests which petitioned for the recount.

Function of the county Board of Canvassers will be to settle disputes, should any arise, and make decisions on accepting or rejecting questionable ballots.

Sitting on the board are Democrats Frank Gierke Sr. and Bill Berger and Republicans Howard Hewitt and Jack Creighton.

County Clerk Fred Lesica said he had no idea why Manistique Township was omitted from the recount request.

The time issue failed in Manistique Township by a 203-40 margin.

Admitted to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital were Frances Slaughter, Corinne Schlenger and Elizabeth Van Dyck.

Discharged were Gail Neadeu, Scott Nelson, Louise Walters, Ralph Williams, Viva Ison, Cecil Berogan and Charles Burley.

U.P. Charter Boat Business Planned

Approximately 60 Upper Peninsula people interested in charter boat operations gathered Tuesday at the Holiday Inn, Marquette, for an all-day workshop concerning the development of the sports fishing charter boat business in the U.P.

The session was hosted by Dennis Hill, charter boat captain operating out of Marquette. The meeting was sponsored by Michigan State University's Extension Service in cooperation with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

Highlighting the meeting was a discussion concerning the need for local charter boat associations and the possibility of forming a regional Upper Peninsula-wide group to represent charter boat business interests across the Peninsula.

Economics Of Fishing

Dr. Eugene Dice, Michigan State University Extension specialist in outdoor recreation, discussed 1968 Great Lakes fishing activity and the economic impact that accompanied the introduction of the coho salmon species. He noted the activity in the construction of new marinas, launching ramps and restaurants and motel facilities throughout the state that have been spurred by the re-birth of sports fishing.

Stan Lieverse, Lansing fish specialist with the DNR, illustrated techniques for the location and catching of salmon and other Great Lakes fish. He displayed gear such as water temperature devices that could be used in locating the layers of temperature that salmon, rainbow trout and brown trout seem to prefer. He indicated that research so far has shown that the salmon particularly prefer a water temperature of about 53 degrees.

Henry Vondett, Marquette, DNR regional fish biologist, discussed plantings in the Great Lakes of various sport fish. He indicated that the department has plans for a continuing program in stocking sports species in the Great Lakes. Questioned about the natural reproduction of coho salmon in Michigan streams, Vondett said that many streams have a good capacity for natural reproduction of the salmon but that they have limited capacity to grow the newly hatched fish to the "smolt" size of about 5 to 6 inches. He indicated that competition in the streams for food and the fact that brook, rainbow and other trout species use the same stream was responsible for this.

Boat Associations

Albert Durham, secretary-treasurer of the Black River (Gogebic County) Charter Boat Assn., reported on activities of that group. He indicated that this was the only charter boat association now existing in the Upper Peninsula. He discussed efforts of his group in joint advertising, legislative matters, booking of charters and attendance at sports shows. He urged the group to consider both local charter boat associations and a regional group that could act as a voice for the relatively new operations in the Upper Peninsula.

Dice reported on activities of newly formed charter boat associations in downstate Michigan. He indicated that there is an interest in forming regional groups in four sections of the state, including the Upper Peninsula, that ultimately could become the foundation of a state-wide council of charter boat associations.

Business Accounts

Dice also urged charter boat captains to consider keeping charter boat business accounts in order not only to decide the profitability of the enterprises but to provide information for people interested in going into the business. Dice emphasized that since this was a relatively new enterprise in Michigan much is to be learned about the profitability of the operations.

Norman Kukuk, commander of the Marquette Coast Guard Auxiliary, explained the operation of the auxiliary units across the Upper Peninsula. He indicated how these units have mushroomed since the introduction of salmon into the Great Lakes and mentioned units that are now formed in Marquette, Houghton-Hancock, Escanaba, Manistique, Munising and Iron Mountain. Other units are in the process of formation across the Upper Peninsula. Kukuk pointed out that the Coast Guard Auxiliary is a voluntary organization interested in boat safety education, search and rescue operations, and courtesy boat inspections for safety purposes.

The workshop was coordinated by Ray Gummerson, Marquette, district extension natural resource agent with Michigan State University. Persons attending came from Marquette, Baraga, Escanaba, Menominee and Ironwood.

Council Will Meet Monday

The Escanaba City Council will host the Manistique City Council at a meeting to be held in Escanaba at the County Building at 8 p. m. Monday in the most recent of a series of such sessions, City Manager George Harvey said today.

The meeting was originally scheduled for Thursday, but was advanced to Monday because of a conflict with the date of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce annual dinner program. The Council expressed its cooperative interest in attending the Chamber dinner and set its regular session for an earlier date.

Harvey said the idea for meetings of the Manistique and Escanaba Councils was broached at a legislative conference in Lansing, which both bodies were attending. They felt both cities would benefit if the Council's could get together in discussions of mutual problems.

The Escanaba Council will hold its second February session on the 17th, advanced to that date from Feb. 20, because the Council and manager expect to be in Lansing for the annual legislative conference.

Parents Of Coed Arrested In Iraq

EAST LANSING (AP) — A Michigan State University coed found her parents had been arrested in Iraq through "a call from a man from the company my father used to work for."

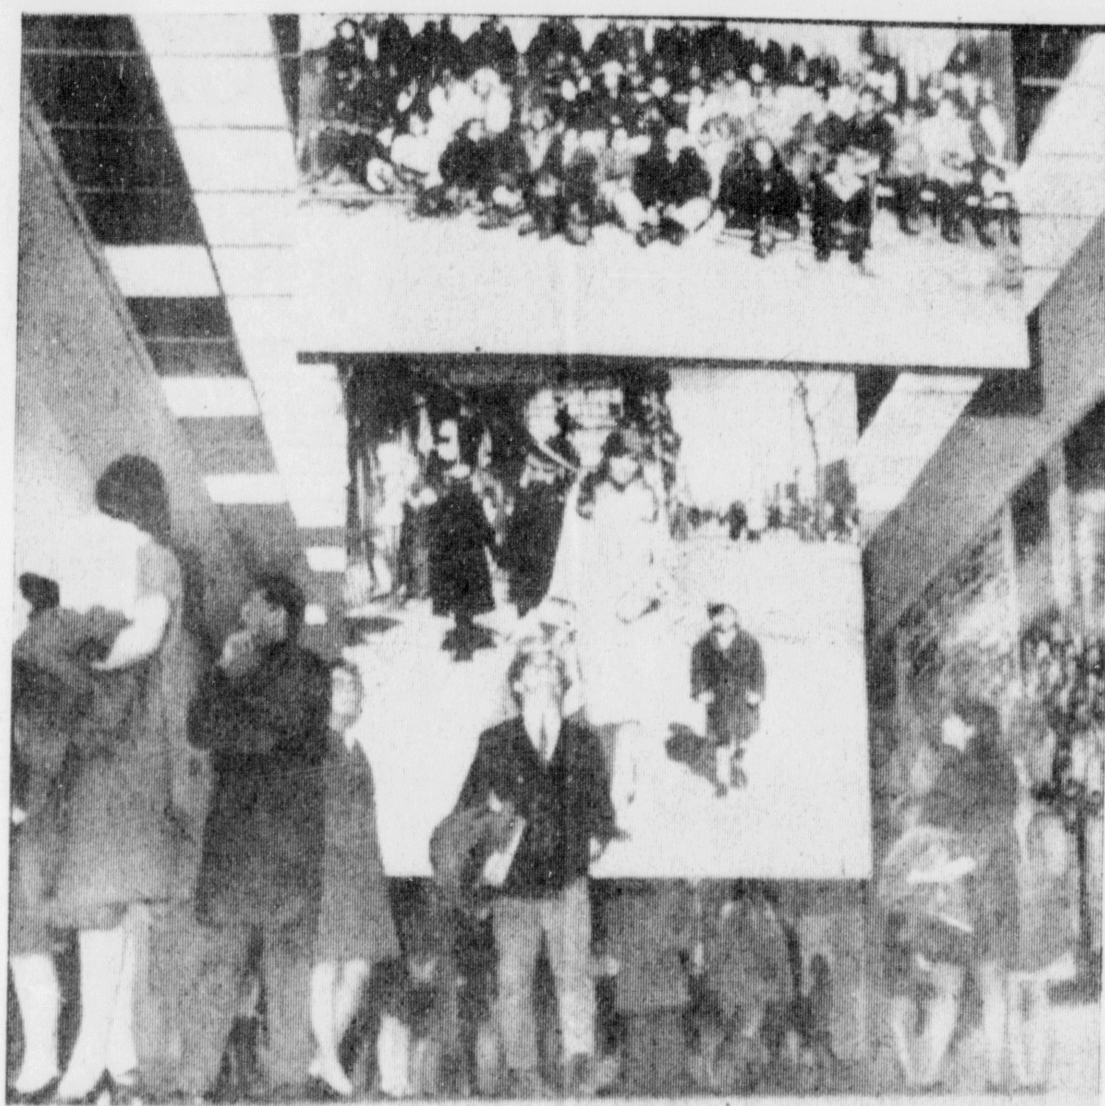

Kathy Bail, 20, said she has not been contacted by the State Department.

"I'm keeping in touch with the situation through an aunt 'who is in contact with officials,'" she told the Associated Press. "They just keep us posted when something new happens," she added. "I'm very worried."

The state department disclosed Wednesday that Paul Bail and his wife had been arrested several weeks ago. Bail is in prison and his wife under "what amounts to a house arrest," said press officer Robert J. McCloskey.

"I got a postcard from my mother — mailed Jan. 1 — and it didn't say anything about the arrest," she said. "She usually wrote once or twice a week."

Miss Bail said she did not know the charges against her parents.

Bomb At Western Fails

Firebomb Kalamazoo National Guard Garage

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Two buildings were firebombed in Kalamazoo in today's pre-dawn hours.

One bomb did an estimated $12,000 damage to a National Guard storage garage, but the other bomb failed to ignite after being thrown into a Western Michigan University building. Both bombings were within a 20-minute span, but police were unable to ascertain immediately if the two were connected.

A Jeep was destroyed and another damaged in the garage fire, which also caused extensive smoke damage. Campus police reported no one was observed in the Western Michigan attempted bombing of a classroom in North Hall, located on an older section of the campus and near a building used by the university's Reserve Officer Training Corps.

A woman who lived near the storage garage reported seeing an automobile containing at least three persons speed away after that firebombing. She said she was alerted by the crash of the bomb going through a window in the front of the building and saw flames. She called firemen.

Campus police said the Western Michigan building attempted bombing occurred about 12:45 a. m. The sound of breaking glass alerted them, they said. The university did not advise city police of the incident there until 7 a. m., after they had washed up the floor, swept up the broken glass and boarded up the window, city police said.

Pellant Heads Country Club

The Board of Directors of the Escanaba Country Club has reelected Emory Pellant of Escanaba as president.

Other officers elected include Edgar Larche, vice president; William Mulvaney, treasurer; and Mrs. James (Virginia) Anzalone, secretary.

The Board plans an active year of golf and activities at the club with Jim Crichton, a member of the Professional Golfers Association, returning as club professional. Annual dues billings, which will remain the same as last year, will be mailed to members in the near future.

Committee appointments include:

Greens Committee—Don Feller, Harold VanEffen; Golf Committee—Pellant, Dave Andrews; Membership Committee—Al Taylor, George Shomin; Entertainment Committee—William Eis Sr., William Baum; Finance Committee—Mulvaney, Larche, Ed Sackerson. Don Goulais will serve on the House Committee with a chairman to be appointed.

A complete schedule of golf events and social activities will be announced this spring.

Three Vie For Demo Chairman

DETROIT (AP)— Democrats will gather in Detroit this weekend to battle over resolutions, hear from four disputed delegations and elect a state chairman to replace outgoing Sen. Sander Levin of Berkeley.

Some 2,300 delegates are eligible to attend the party's spring state convention, one of two statewide Democratic conclaves held each year. Republicans meet two weeks later at Grand Rapids.

Three candidates have announced themselves as interested in taking the party's helm from Levin, who has vowed not to seek another term. Levin, 37, has been chairman for about a year.

The declared candidates are James McNeely, Levin's deputy chairman; William Hettiger, deputy secretary of state; and Prof. Otto Feinstein of Wayne State University.

Another possible candidate is Detroit city controller Bernard Klein. The name of party vice chairman Kenneth Hyton is sometimes mentioned, but he is thought less likely to run.

McNeely may benefit from Levin's undeclared support. Hettiger is backed by his boss, Secretary of State James Hare.

Feinstein, former state chairman of Sen. Eugene McCarthy's presidential effort, may be backed by the "New Democratic Coalition" of young liberal delegates.

Clergy Creates Study Group On Social Action

Pursuing the theme of the two-day session at Northern Michigan University Center — "Faith And Social Involvement" — the 11th annual conference of U.P. Clergy closed at noon Tuesday at Northern Michigan University, Marquette, with the formation of a volunteer Social Involvement Committee designed to produce action.

The committee, with Rev. Ralph Janka, of the First United Methodist Church, Marquette, as temporary chairman, was formed to gather information for the clergy to implement its involvement in social issues in the Upper Peninsula. The committee's ultimate goal is to have the clergy act immediately in social crises.

Three current Upper Peninsula issues singled out by the committee for immediate focus, study and report are: the Job Corps Center controversy at Northern Michigan University; the welfare of the Indian in the Upper Peninsula and the five-month old Calumet & Hecla strike in the Copper Country.

Later, the committee will make a study of other major social issues in U.P. communities which it believes demand involvement of the clergy and the church.

Members of the committee in addition to Rev. Janka include Rev. William Verhelst, United Methodist Church, Gladstone.

The committee, considered the foremost accomplishment of the two-day meeting attended by some 100 U. P. clergymen, held its first meeting at the close of the conference noon Tuesday. The conference was sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches, Northern Michigan University and the University of Michigan. Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edmund Szoka, assistant chancellor, Roman Catholic Diocese, Marquette, was chairman of the conference planning committee.

Nursing Home Permit Denied

The Four Seasons Nursing Home Corp. may not construct a building of the size for which it requested a permit from the city because the site is too small, the City of Escanaba has advised the applicants.

City Manager George Harvey in a report to the City Council noted that last month the Board of Appeals heard a request of the Four Seasons Nursing Corp. to allow certain variances in the zoning ordinance to permit them to construct a 100 bed nursing home.

The building was to be constructed on a 300 by 300 foot site at 2501 5th Ave. S.

"In order to comply with the ordinance, it would be necessary for the land to be 360 feet wide in order to absorb this structure," said Harvey.

"The matter was referred to the city attorney for an opinion and about the first of the year it was his decision that the Board of Appeals had no authority in this matter."

In view of this decision, Four Seasons Nursing Home Corp. was advised that it would have to purchase additional land for the structure, or reduce the size of the proposed building to conform with the land available.

"The matter now rests with the Four Seasons people as to the next move," said the city manager.

Parent-Teacher Day Set Feb. 3

Parent-teacher conferences for all grades will be held at the Carney-Nadeau school on Monday, Feb. 3. Parents with last names beginning with letters A through M are asked to come for conferences from 8:30 until noon. Parents with last names beginning with letters N-Z are asked to come from 1 until 3:30. Pupils will not be in attendance on Feb. 3.

Snowmobile Driver Tagged

A juvenile boy operating a snowmobile on a Rapid River street was arrested by State Police about 8:25 p.m. Wednesday for violation of Michigan's new snowmobile law.

The law prohibits operation of snowmobiles on city and village streets.

Troopers said they have received a number of complaints about snowmobiles running on streets and highways, particularly in rural areas, and reported that the snowmobile law will be enforced.

Snowmobile owners also were reminded that the machines must be licensed with the Secretary of State's office and that identification numerals must be displayed on the cowl of the machine.

Smits Delights Rotary Audience

Lee Smits, special representative of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., Detroit, delighted the Escanaba Rotary Club at its luncheon meeting Monday with reminiscences on the Upper Peninsula.

A former member of the Michigan Conservation Commission and one of its best known writers and raconteurs on conservation (his "In the Open" column appears regularly in the Escanaba Daily Press) Smits is one of the most ardent and effective boosters for the Upper Peninsula.

Now 82, he knew many of the men who made the legends in Upper Peninsula logging, mining, hunting and fishing. He has, as an ambassador of good will for Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., he said, become known as "the Georgie Jessel of Methodist Church basements," because of his heavy speaking schedule.

He stopped in Escanaba enroute to Munising, where he was the speaker at the Municipal Chamber of Commerce's annual dinner meeting.

He told Escanaba Rotarians of the time that Frank Cookson of Manistique was logging in the Seney marshes. He had four teamsters and they were working long hours trying to get the cut to the river for driving before the spring break-up, when one of them got a great thirst in the night and took a horse from the stable and rode down to Angus McDougall's White House bar in Germfask to quench it.

Before returning to camp he took the precaution of buying a gallon of whisky and tying it under his horse's neck. When Cookson arose in the morning there was a sound of merriment from the horse barn and he went there to find all his teamsters drunk. There was no sleighhauling of logs that day despite the breakup crisis and Cookson eventually wound up in court charged with breach of contract by nondelivery of the timber.

"Frank had a good lawyer," said Smits "and he established that when four teamsters go to work and find in front of their horse barn a horse with a gallon jug of firewater on its neck that it is an act of God, like the weather and floods, and not subject to the simplicities of man-made contracts."

Briefly Told

Escanaba police have issued a traffic court notice to James L. Paulin, 1218 1/2 12th Ave. S., failing to exercise due care.

Danforth ski hill will be open tonight from 7 to 9:30 p.m. The skating rinks must be cleared and reflooded before public skating is permitted.

A set of keys and a chain in a black case were found at 3rd Ave. S. and 17th St. recently, city police report. The owner of the keys may identify and claim them at the police station.

James T. Russell of Harrison has been named winner of the State Agriculture Department's Miles A. Nelson merit award for outstanding service to the people of the state and his department. Russell is regional dairy supervisor for the Upper Peninsula and northern part of the Lower Peninsula.

Rocket Causes Enterprise Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has tentatively decided the hot exhaust from an aircraft starter cart touched off an explosion that led to fiery disaster aboard the aircraft carrier Enterprise.

It indicated Wednesday that more stringent restrictions have been issued on how close jet starter carts can be placed to ammunition and aircraft.

"Indications are that the exhaust from the cart may have caused the overheating and explosion of a Zuni rocket attached to the wing of an airplane," the Navy said. "The initial explosion apparently caused a fire and subsequent bomb and rocket explosions on airplanes parked nearby."

Explosions and flame swept areas of the giant carrier Jan. 14, killing 27 men and injuring 85 others while it was at sea southwest of Hawaii. The Navy disclosed repairs will cost $6.4 million, but estimated the flat-top will return to duty in less than three months.

The Navy said the Enterprise was capable of "sustained combat capabilities as soon as the fires were out and debris removed. She could have continued flight operations and also launched combat missions if necessary."

Laird Orders Study Of Pueblo Incident

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird announced today he has ordered a high-level Pentagon study of the Pueblo case "to see that incidents of this kind do not happen again."

At his first news conference as Pentagon chief, Laird said he had appointed Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard to head the study and oversee matters involving the intelligence ship, whose capture is being investigated by a Navy court of inquiry in California.

The ship was seized by North Korean naval forces Jan. 23, 1968.

Laird said "the matter is being very carefully watched" by Packard—among other things, to see that the interests of its skipper and crewmen have been and are protected.

The new defense chief said the court of inquiry is "well in hand" but that he felt the widespread public interest in the matter required high level Defense Department attention to the situation.

On other matters, Laird: —Announced that Packard, his second in command, will

Detail Plans To Assess Schools

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Education decided Wednesday to set up preliminary details on a plan to assess Michigan schools.

"The public is asked continually to support programs for extending the quantity and quality of educational services, but is inadequately provided with a basis for judging the effectiveness of its efforts," said a report from Dr. Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction.

"The major and overriding purpose of an assessment effort would be to provide educators, legislators, school board members and citizens in general with better and more comprehensive information concerning the extent of educational progress among the children in the public schools of our state," the report said.

With more complete information, the board said the Legislature could better "enact legislation appropriate to the educational needs of children and youth."

Cornell

Study Group

The Cornell Home Study Group met at the William Woodard home on Tuesday evening. Business included a discussion of the Bay de Noc scholarship fund and applications, program planning for the coming year, college week for women and suggestions for a summer trip.

Lessons, "Know Yourself and Your Food Habits," and, "Accent on Action," (understanding human emotions in an emergency) were given by Mrs. Morton and Mrs. Howard Scheuren.

A social hour followed and hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Harold and Mrs. William Woodard. The next meeting will be held at the Alfred Dahl Jr. home on Feb. 25.

Bands Feature Guest Soloist

For the eighth consecutive year, the band department of the Escanaba Area public schools will present a nationally-known musician at its winter concert.

Saxophonist Fred Hemke, who recently returned from a U.S. State Dept. sponsored tour through 11 countries in the Far East, will appear as soloist with the Escanaba High School Concert Band and the Junior High 8th grade Concert Band Thursday, Feb. 6.

Tickets for the 7:30 p.m. concert will be available at the door of William W. Oliver auditorium on the night of the concert.

In his recent tour, Hemke appeared as soloist with the Seoul, Korea, Symphony and the New Zealand Symphony. He also is the first American to win a first prize in saxophone at the National Conservatory of Music, Paris, France.

A varied program of music has been planned by both bands. The 115-piece high school Concert Band will be directed by John R. Chown. David Laakso will direct the Junior High Concert Band.

FOB Detroit

By Jerry Green

DETROIT — The tub was brimming with swirling waters, and they picked up the man in the expensive blue-black business suit and lifted him above it. Without too much regard for delicacy, they dropped the man into the waters.

He splashed, delighted, his rich suit immersed, and they sprayed shaving cream from a can at him.

"I was honored by it," said the man, who was John E. Fetzner, of the celebration the night of Sept. 17 last.

It was an initiation of sorts, yes. The Tigers had just won their pennant and John Fetzner is owner of the club. This was his team's first pennant, and he was thrilled because his employee athletes were considerate enough to include him in their revelry.

I imagine, if it were possible, John Fetzner would like the suit he wore that night to remain permanently soaked — a dripping trophy.

Fetzner is a dignified and articulate gentleman. He is one of the more prominent men in the nation's broadcast industry. His peers in that business regard him as thoughtfully as do his ballplayers. Fetzner recently was the recipient of a prestigious radio service award.

Last year his was the most successful baseball club. It did more than win a world championship. It soothed a turbulent, troubled city. More than 2 million people purchased tickets to view his Tigers.

Fetzner is happy about his personal success in baseball, meaning the current status of his Tigers. But he is a man dedicated to the sport, and he is aware that baseball is becoming a decaying sport. Despite the fortune of the Tigers, he is aware of baseball's plight and he is concerned.

Baseball, if it can bring itself to such a momentous happening, soon may have a new commissioner, perhaps in a few days. John Fetzner, maybe alone among the owners, envies beyond such an election.

This is why he is concerned. Professional football has surpassed baseball in a business sense, and Fetzner realizes this has happened.

It is his thought that story baseball must adapt pro football's organizational format immediately. Otherwise, baseball — which is our national pastime, according to lore — could perish.

Football has a powerful, despotic commissioner in Pete Rozelle. Baseball needs the same type of man with the same type of powers. I talked recently to Fetzner about the forthcoming search for a new commissioner. I was attempting to sound out his feelings about the various candidates. His response told me not of the men, but of his concept which he believes can rescue baseball from its treadmill.

"Baseball has to be reorganized," Fetzner said. "Baseball has an archaic setup, out of the eons of the past. Baseball has got to get with it. We're living in a new age, in new times.

"Any man, if he were to be the one elected commissioner, would find it tantamount to sticking his head in a noose and he would have his hands tied.

"Under the current structure, the leagues are divided. The commissioner would spend most of his time arbitrating petty disputes.

"The leagues should be reorganized under one corporate setup with one commissioner and deputies for each league. The commissioner would be wasting his time if it is done otherwise.

"Every owner must realize he has to sacrifice some autonomy for the overall good of baseball. Until they make this sacrifice, we are not going to have a sound structure for baseball.

"It is plain nonsense to agree on the man to run it until the American and National Leagues are together in one corporate structure."

This is the way football is working and making money. The owners of baseball major league clubs have been too haughty to realize there is a game called pro football.

They don't even realize baseball no longer offers a stiff challenge to pro football in most cities. Detroit is one of the exceptions. But even that is temporary, lasting only as long as the Tigers are winners.

Fetzner's idea is an enlightened one. There has to be a doctrine, and a man with the powers to enforce it and tell the clubowners to choke on their petty disagreements.

Baseball has to get with it, the words used by Fetzner. Otherwise the other owners will be taking a bath, too — a very different kind of bath than the one taken by John Fetzner last September.

Mullins, Thurmond Stop Piston Rallies

By The Associated Press

A career high of 42 points by Jeff Mullins and 34 more by Nate Thurmond stifled Detroit Pistons comeback Wednesday night as the San Francisco Warriors won a National Basketball Association game 133-126 in Detroit.

Detroit rallied twice from deficits of 12 and 15 points but could not overcome Mullins and Thurmond. The loss was the third straight for the Pistons.

Detroit coach Paul Seymour, who got a technical foul and a $25 fine for his 41st birthday, admitted that Thurmond, at 6-foot-11, "intimidates the whole offense."

"That's the way he played when San Francisco won the division title a few years ago," said the Pistons' Bud Olsen, who was with the Warriors at the time.

In other league action, the Seattle SuperSonics held up under a pounding by the Boston Celtics and triumphed 124-122 in a game at Philadelphia. In a later game, the 76ers defeated Atlanta 119-96. Phoenix stopped Milwaukee 111-107 and Los Angeles defeated San Diego 122-120.

Wilt Chamberlain saved the game for Los Angeles, blocking two shots in the final 10 seconds. The Rockets, behind by 25 points early in the third period, cut the deficit to two points with 26 seconds left on Don Kojis' jumper.

Elvin Hayes of San Diego led all scorers with 40 points while Chamberlain topped the Lakers with 30.

Eskymos Play At Home

Big Bay's Hartman Setting Pace In Area Scoring Race

Bill Hartman of Big Bay de Noc holds a slight edge over Tim Moran of Carney and Joe Couillard of Perkins in the Escanaba area basketball scoring race with a 23.4 points per game average in ten games.

Moran is in second place with 24.8 points in 11 games for a 22.5 average per game and Couillard is in third with 22.1 points in 10 games for a 22.1 average. Dick Smith of Powers has scored more points than anyone else in the area, 257, but has played in 12 games.

Schools covered in the scoring derby are Escanaba, Holy Name, Gladstone, Manistique, Rapid River, Powers, Big Bay de Noc, Hermansville, Bark River, Perkins, Rock, Carney and Trenary.

In all, 36 players in the area are scoring at an average of over ten points per game with quite a few more knocking on the door of the ten-point per game mark. Steve Nelson of Gladstone is the leading scorer among the big schools in the area with 221 points in 11 games for a 20.1 average.

Conference Tussle Highlighting the action in the area this week will be the Great Northern Conference tussle between Escanaba and West Iron County at the Escanaba Area High School gymnasium Friday night beginning at 8:30.

The Eskymos need a victory to remain in second place in the conference standings and the Wykons need a victory to stay in the championship race. An Eskymo loss would drop them into fourth place but a victory would keep them in second place if Menominee should beat last-place Iron Mountain, winless in the conference.

John Moberg, senior Escanaba forward, has come on strong as of late and could be just the lift the Eskymos need to go all the way. Moberg has lifted his scoring average to 14.4 points a game with strong showings in the Eskymos' last two outings and he has been pulling down rebounds as if he owned the boards.

Another key Great Northern Conference battle takes place in Kingsford where the Flivvers will play host to the Holy Name Crusaders, one of three teams in the conference with a single loss and still very much in the title picture. Kingsford holds a 1-3 mark in the conference but gave a tall Marinette team all it could handle last weekend.

Welcome Addition

The Crusaders had a welcome addition to their lineup in the last outing when Coach John Butryniewicz inserted sophomore Joe Harvey, a 6 foot

4 inch giant, into the starting lineup and Harvey responded by grabbing 12 rebounds in the game.

The steadiest players on the Holy Name team all season have been guard Al Grabowski and center Terry Dufour. The high-scoring duo have combined to score 282 points in the eight Crusader games and Grabowski has been right around the 20-point per game mark all season. Dufour has come on as of late to share the load with Grabowski and is now averaging 16.6 points per game.

Among the smaller schools in the area, the key game will be the Central League battle between Bark River and Perkins at Perkins. The Broncos lead the conference with a 5-1 mark and Perkins is in second place with a 5-2 record. Perkins has scored 107 and 98 points in its last two outings while Bark River has gone down to defeat in three straight nonconference tilts.

Braves Home

On Saturday night at 8:30 in the Gladstone High School gym, the Braves will play host to the Stephenson Eagles, a team which the Braves defeated earlier in the season, 57-45, at Stephenson.

Gladstone snapped a two-game losing streak against Gwynn Tuesday night and will be out to improve on their 8-3 season record.

Other area games Friday night will find the Manistique Emeralds at Newberry, Rapid River at Rock, Powers at Pembine, National Mine at Carney and Grand Marais at Big Bay.

Rangers Shutout Wings; Giacomini After Trophy

By The Associated Press

Ed Giacomini has this little ambition that most National Hockey League goaltenders share. He'd like very much to win the Vezina Trophy as the league's top goalie. Giacomini, who minds the New York nets, is no hog. He just wants to win it once.

The way to capture the Vezina is for your team to allow less goals than any other club in the league and the Rangers have allowed 115—best defensive figure in the NHL's East Division. Giacomini's 2-0 shutout over Detroit Wednesday night was his second in three games and the road to the Vezina is paved with shutouts.

The Red Wings could manage only a single shot on the Ranger nets during the second period, which prompted coach Bill Gadsby to mutter, "We were beaten by two blankety blank goals, but we didn't have any bite."

Big Guns Blanked

The Wings' big first line of Gordie Howe, Alex Delvecchio and Frank Mahovlich was particularly toothless, and failed for the first time in 12 games to get any score.

Giacomini had one little problem. It's called the St. Louis

Blues and it's about 18 goals large right now. That's the margin Jacques Plante and Glenn Hall, who share the St. Louis netminding, hold over Giacomini in the Vezina race.

Plante beat Pittsburgh 2-1 Wednesday night as the Blues stretched their unbeaten streak against the West Division to 19 games.

In other NHL action Wednesday, Montreal blanked Minnesota 4-0 Boston and Oakland played a 3-3 tie and Los Angeles upended Toronto 3-1.

Giacomini faced just 23 Detroit shots and saw only one in the second period, recording his fourth shutout of the season.

Stretch String

Vic Hadfield, who scored his 10th goal in 14 games, and Rod Gilbert accounted for the Ranger goals as New York stretched its unbeaten string to six games. The Rangers won their fourth straight under interim Coach Emile Francis, who replaced the ailing Bernie Geoffrion a week ago.

Plante, who has won six Vezina Trophies in his career and celebrated his 40th birthday two weeks ago, was St. Louis' key against Pittsburgh. He stopped 24 shots and lowered his league-leading goals against average to 1.8.

Canadiens Win

The Blues, who haven't lost to a West team since Nov. 2, grabbed a lead on Bill McCreary's goal in the second period. Gene Ubriaco tied it with Pittsburgh enjoying a two-man advantage in the third period but Ron Schock won it for the Blues with less than six minutes

Dark Presented 5-Year Contract

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians have given manager Alvin Dark a five-year contract.

Indian president Gabe Paul said Wednesday Dark was given the extended contract in recognition of the "tremendous job he did last year," when he brought the Tribe from an eighth-place finish in 1967 to third in 1968.

Dark's salary under the new contract was not disclosed.

Maravich Close To Scoring Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — No season scoring record appears safe from Pete Maravich—not even his own.

The Louisiana State sharpshooter is closing in on the two-season, sophomore-junior scoring mark of 1,962 points set by Oscar Robertson in 1959-60 and the record two-year total of 2,095 by Elvin Hayes in 1967-68.

Maravich needs to average only in the mid-20s the rest of this season to shatter both marks.

Only a junior, Maravich also has his sights set on Robertson's career total of 2,973.

The 6-foot-5 forward presently is averaging 46.1 points a game in statistics released today by the National Collegiate Sports Services. However, it dropped to 44.2 after he was held to 21 points by Tennessee Monday night.

That puts him in position to crack the single season record average of 45.8 he set last year when he scored 1,138 points. He already has 553 points in 12 games this season.

Cal Murphy, Niagara's 5-10 jumping jack who came along at the wrong time, still is a distant second with a 34.3 average after finishing last season as runner-up to Maravich with a 38.2 average, the fourth highest in history.

But both Maravich and Murphy must play second fiddle to Lew Alcindor, UCLA's overpowering 7-1 1/2 giant who is closing in on a milestone himself. Alcindor, averaging 26.6 points a game for ninth place, needs only 23 points to join the select 2,000-point career club.

Big Lew also closed in on the field goal percentage leader, Al Krobeth of The Citadel, hitting 65.2 per cent to Krobeth's 65.4.

Larry Ward of Centenary retained his free throw percentage lead at 94 per cent and Larry Lewis of St. Francis, Pa., held his narrow rebounding lead over Detroit's Spencer Haywood, 21.6 to 21.3.

New Mexico State Loses; One Unbeaten Team Left

By The Associated Press

Big Greg Howard is back in good standing at New Mexico but he's public enemy No. 1 at New Mexico State.

Starting for the first time since a six-game disciplinary suspension earlier in the season, the 6-foot-9 Howard poured in 35 points as the unranked Lobos shot the eighth-ranked Aggies from the unbeaten ranks Wednesday night 86-66.

The lanky junior from Pittsburgh connected on 16 of 18 floor shots and three of six at the foul line and pulled down 14 rebounds, twice as many as any Aggie.

New Mexico State had won its first 16 games and only trailed 38-35 at halftime before the Lobos, now 12-6, pulled away.

"This was the win we needed," said Howard. "We have eight games left and we can win them all now." Included is a return engagement with the Aggies Saturday on the Lobos' court in Albuquerque.

During Howard's suspension, the Lobos lost twice and he did not start in three more setbacks since his return.

The outcome Wednesday night left top-ranked UCLA and No. 3 Santa Clara as the nation's only major unbeaten teams.

New Mexico was the only member of The Associated Press' Top Twenty teams to see action Wednesday.

Elsewhere, Ohio University whipped Western Michigan 78-68 and moved into second place in the Mid-American Conference as Gerald McKee and Greg McDivitt scored 20 points apiece. Toledo, which had been second, dropped to fourth by losing to Kent State 72-69 as the winners made 17 of 27 shots in the second half.

Justus Thigpen, playing with a broken hand, fired in 23 points and Willie Sojourner grabbed 20 rebounds to lead Weber State

Drafted Quarterbacks Given Chance To Play

NEW YORK (AP) — Tapping a quarterback at the pro football draft very often turns out to be like buying an expensive piece of China—you wind up putting it on the shelf.

But the crop tapped this year, including top-rated Greg Cook of Cincinnati and two more Negro candidates, appears to have a far better chance of seeing action than the 1968 group.

Twenty quarterbacks were drafted last year, including highly touted Gary Beban, but just four saw considerable action—Greg Landry at Detroit, Dewey Warren at Cincinnati, Dan Darrah at Buffalo and Marlin Briscoe at Denver.

But Cook and his cohorts drafted over the two days of the selection meeting that ended Wednesday after 21 hours and 15 minutes of drafting, appear to be in better shape to break in than their predecessors.

First, it's take a look at how the Top Ten were picked, with name, college, selecting team, round, and over-all number selected among the 442 players picked:

1. Greg Cook, Cincinnati, by Cincinnati, round 1, 5th player.
2. Marty Domres, Columbia, by San Diego, round 1, 9th player.

3. Terry Hanratty, Notre Dame, by Pittsburgh, round 2, 30th player.

4. Bob Douglass, Kansas, by Chicago, round 2, 41st player.

5. Al Woodall, Duke, by New York Jets, round 2, 52nd player.

6. Onree Jackson, Alabama A&M, by Boston, round 5, 110th player.

7. Jimmy Harris, Grambling, by Buffalo, round 8, 192nd player.

8. Sam Havrilak, Bucknell, by Baltimore, round 8, 207th player.

9. Larry Good, Georgia Tech, by Baltimore, round 9, 232nd player.

10. Sonny Wade, Emory & Henry, by Philadelphia, round 10, 256th player.

Of that group, Cook, Hanratty and the two Negro candidates, Jackson and Harris, seem to have the best opportunity to break through while Domres, Douglass and Woodall stand somewhat as surprising selections.

Jackson was rated as the second best college quarterback in the country by the Patriots, who last year were disappointed in the efforts of Mike Taliaferro

Dusting Blinds Will Save Time

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Washing venetian window blinds is a chore that most housewives would avoid if they could.

Well, they can.

The trick is to keep the blinds dusted regularly. There is no recommended "dusting time," since this depends on how much dust there is in the air around you and whether the window is open or closed most of the time. But if the cleaning is made a part of the regular household dusting schedule — such as when the furniture is dusted — the chances are that it will be sufficient.

Slat blinds can be dusted with an ordinary clean cloth, a dusting mitt, one of the various dusting devices on the market, or a vacuum cleaner.

The latter is probably best, using either the regular round nozzle or the special venetian blind attachment that comes with most vacuum outfits.

From Jo Anderle, director of the Levolor Window Blind Center in Hoboken, N. J., comes this advice:

"Don't be afraid to push your cloth, nozzle, brush or whatever, behind the tapes. Tilt the blind down, almost but not quite closed. Start at the top, doing a section at a time. Push your dusting implement slightly under the slat above, so you do not miss any parts. Change the angle of the slats as necessary. And I repeat, get behind the tapes."

While this type of dusting will keep the blinds sparkling for a long time, Miss Anderle admits that, in a few cases, such as blinds in a kitchen where there is no exhaust fan, washing may be necessary. In that event, she says:

"Use a soft cloth, sponge or medium soft brush and a good mild detergent. Use warm or cold water. Hot water tends to create shrinkage in cotton tapes and cords. Plastic tapes and nylon cords are much less subject to shrinkage. Wash the blind in sections. A little scrubbing on bad spots may be required, but mostly that will not be necessary. Most of all, do a thorough rinsing job to clean up any water spots and wash off any loose dirt. For better drainage, hang the blind upside down."

Dartmouth Coach Receives Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Eddie Jeremiah, long-time hockey coach at Dartmouth College, has been selected second winner of the Lester Patrick Trophy for 1969.

The trophy, in recognition of long and meritorious service to hockey in the United States, will be awarded posthumously Feb. 18. Bobby Hull of the Chicago Black Hawks, will also receive the Patrick Trophy that night.

Jeremiah, who died at the age of 61 in 1967, coached for 30 years at Dartmouth following a professional hockey career that included stints with the Boston Bruins and the New York Americans in the National League. A native of Worcester, Mass., he is one of a relatively small number of American-born athletes to play in the NHL.

Richard Henry Lee of Virginia made the formal motion for independence in the Continental Congress.

Lake Superior Gains Revenge

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Lake Superior State scored eight straight points in overtime and got sweet revenge over its parent school, Michigan Tech, 121-115 in a nonconference basketball game Wednesday night.

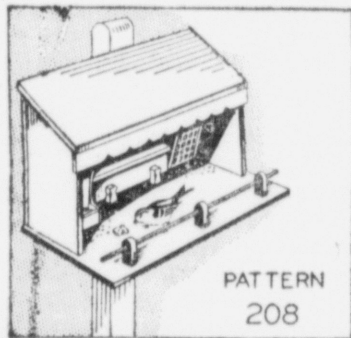

Brad Shoultice had 34 points — 32 in the second half and in overtime — to lead Lake Superior to its tenth win of the season compared with eight defeats.

Michigan Tech, which defeated Lake Superior earlier in the season at Houghton, was led by Larry Grimes with 38 points. Tech has a 4-10 record.

Senators Fire Manager Lemon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jim Lemon was fired Wednesday as manager of the Washington Senators.

A club spokesman said Lemon and club officials were discussing "the possibility of him staying with the club in another capacity."

POWERS—Kenneth LeBoeuf of Powers has turned professional in one of the area's newest fun sports, snowmobiling. LeBoeuf recently took first place in the "Tip Up Town", competitions at Houghton Lake, Mich. over the past weekend. He took the honor in the 1969 Grand Prix drag race and drives a 400 CC modified, "Sno-Sport", as a member of a team representing Rupp Manufacturing Company of Mansfield, Ohio.

LeBoeuf has been an outstanding competitor in races across the country including Grand Rapids, Rhinelander and Eagle River, placing 13th in the top 25 racers there. He leaves for New Hampshire this week and from there will compete in races in Forest Lake and Brainerd, Minn. and Boonville, N. Y. In Mid-March he will travel to Yellowstone, Mont. for racing that attracts contestants from all over the United States and Canada.

Auto Dealer Claims Testimony Hurt Image

FERNDALE (AP) — George N. Higgins, Ferndale auto dealer and former state senator, told Sen. Philip A. Hart today that "misleading and irresponsible testimony" has created an incorrect image of the automobile dealer-serviceman.

Higgins made public a letter he had written Hart as chairman of the Senate's Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, which has been conducting a series of hearings on alleged gouging by dealers on repair bills.

Higgins said his letter was written "to set the record straight with facts," adding that his service department, excluding the sale of parts, had a loss of $29,600 for the year ended last Dec. 31.

"In other words," he said, "our service cost our customers less than it did us."

Higgins said his company had run a factual study on 1,408 buyers of 1968 model cars and that 802 had returned to Higgins Pontiac Inc. for service "other than repair covered by warranty (which provided free service in warranty areas) or that occasioned by collision (for which I don't think you can hold the dealer or manufacturer responsible)."

"These 802 owners," Higgins

continued, "had their cars in operation for a total of 7,783 months or a cumulative total of 649 years during the 12 months ended Dec. 31, 1968."

"These owners spent a total of $23,744 for repair and maintenance during the 12 months... thus their individual bills averaged $29.60, and this included charges for such as periodic oil changes, lubrications and shifting of wheels to maximize tire mileage."

"Had each of these 802 owners had their cars a full year, it is estimated that their total repair and maintenance bill would have been $29,354.58. In this event, the average would have been $36.60."

Claiming the automobile dealer is discriminated against in certain fields, Higgins suggested Hart's subcommittee look into why the Automobile Club of Michigan (AAA) can sell insurance on automobiles, but dealers may not.

Higgins also suggested banks can sell credit life insurance on automobile loans they make, while dealers may not, and asked why.

Thailand Has Looks Of Another Vietnam

By JOHN T. WHEELER
BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — A Communist-led insurgency on a new third front has aroused ripples of alarm in Thailand. In the background is a question of what the United States might eventually be called upon to do about helping this country maintain its authority.

There is a suspicion among qualified Western sources that the new sector of the insurgency is controlled at long range by Peking, which of all the Communist countries has called most loudly for the destruction of the pro-American regime in Bangkok.

Generally speaking, the fighting zone is 250 to 300 miles north of Bangkok in an area of rugged mountains. Infiltration trails have been traced backward across the narrow northwestern part of Laos to Red Chinese military roads.

Question Strength
Developments in the area over recent months have raised doubts in the minds of some Western military experts over the Thai army's ability to handle a major upsurge in the guerrilla war without outside help.

In Bangkok's view the most logical source of help is its ally the United States, which is committed under the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, SEATO, to Thailand's defense from outside aggression.

One Western diplomat said, "You know, it would be terribly easy for you Americans to slip into another Vietnam here and much faster than any of us would have believed a year ago."

Change Names
At present an estimated 4,000 terrorists are operating in Thailand's north, northeast and south. Against them the government has 100,000 under arms who in the minds of some experts are spread dangerously thin to prevent the guerrilla war from spreading.

Change the names and you easily could have Vietnam in 1964 when the Communist-led forces were starting their third phase warfare.

The problem in the north is not widespread enough to warrant full comparison with Vietnam yet. No one really knows how many men have been committed to the Peking front, if that's what it is. But the number is probably fewer than 1,000 right now. Some who watch the war closely for their home governments say if the commitment is doubled or tripled, Bangkok's ability to cope would be in serious doubt.

Carney Rejects Sewage Image

CHANDLER, Ariz. (AP) — Television star Art Carney isn't interested in attending a sewage disposal plant dedication here.

Carney, who has played sewer worker Ed Norton on the Jackie Gleason Honeymooners show for 10 years, turned down the invitation from Mayor George Nader because he "wants to dispel his association with the sewerman image," business manager William McCaffrey explained.

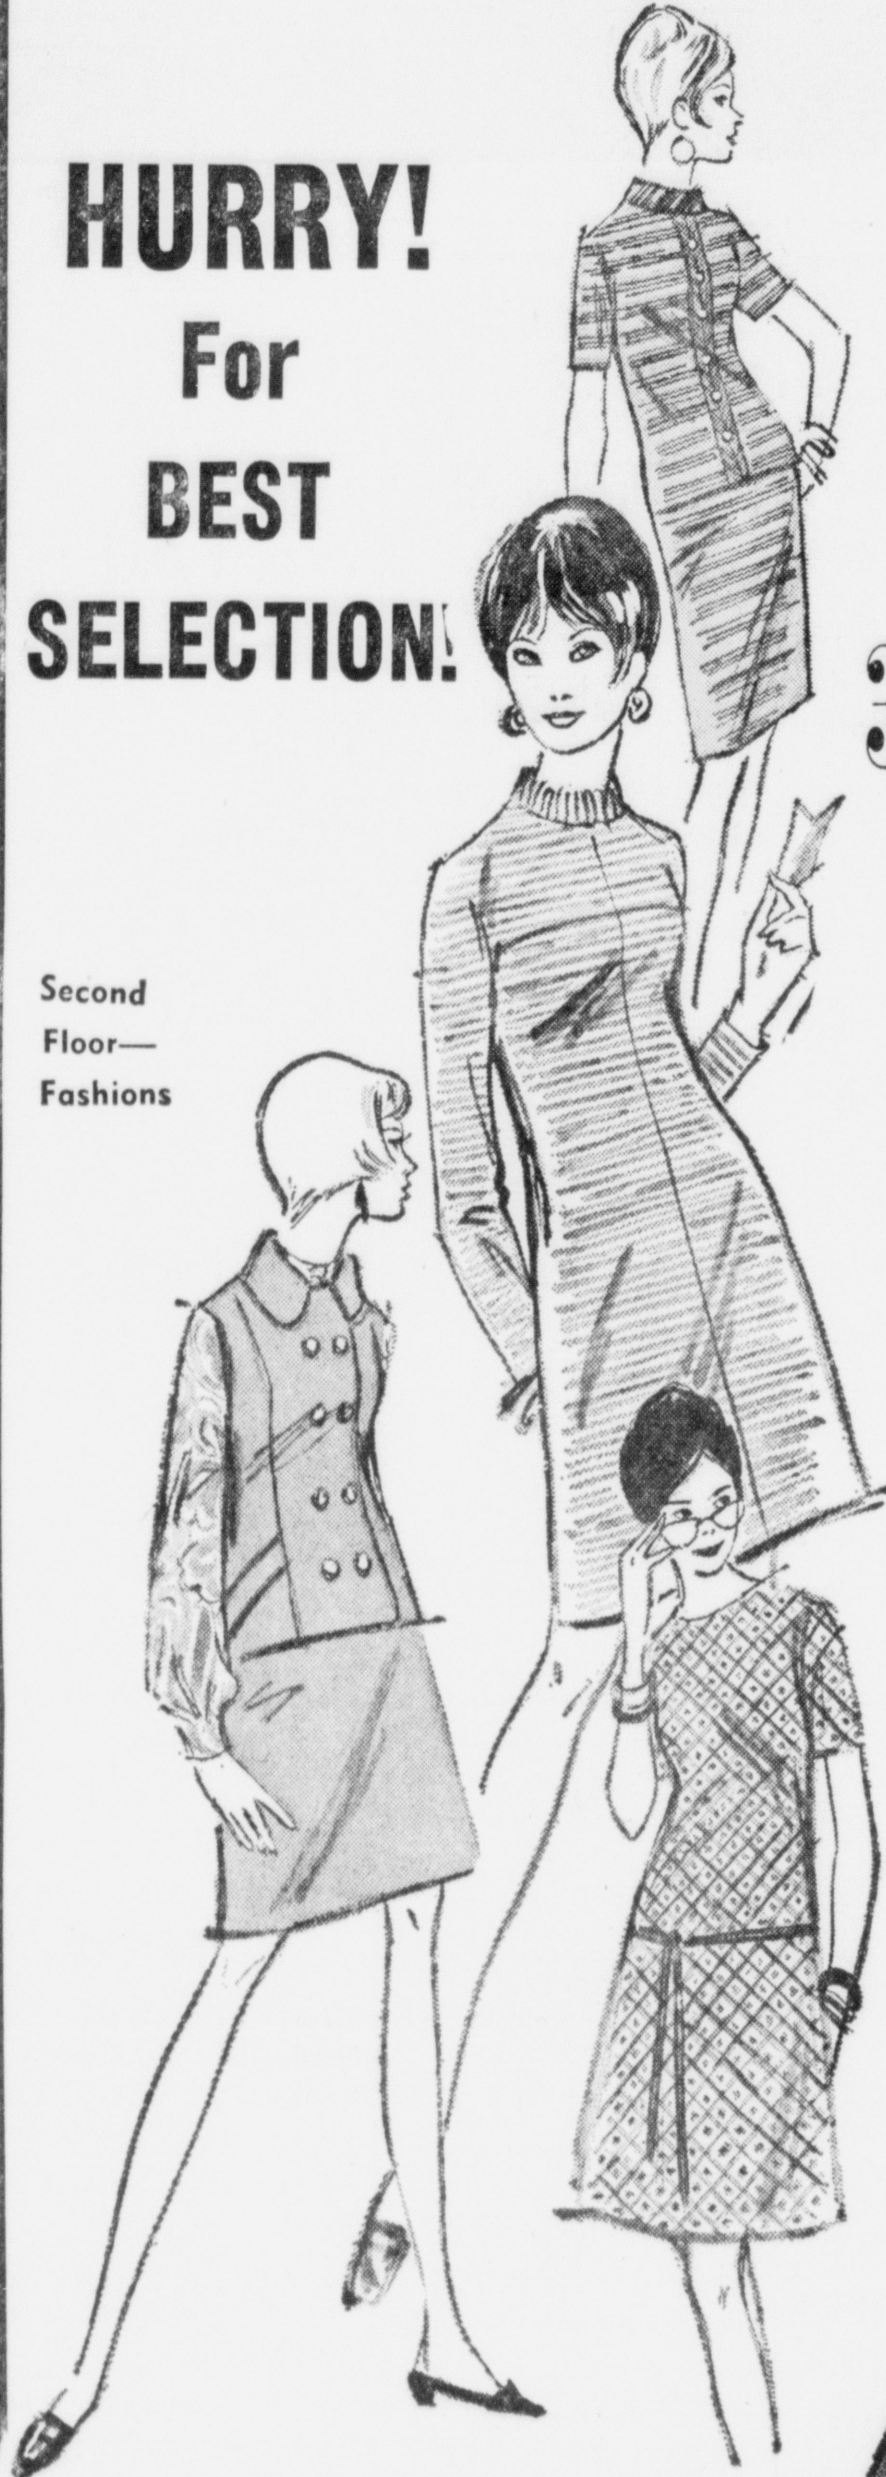

The mayor had even offered to engrave Carney's name on all the manhole covers in the city.
